Appeal Hearing On Injunction on Gas Price Cut

Attorney-General Asks Court to End Ban on Reduction

Companies Heard

VANCOUVER (CP)—Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer said today the Appeal Court's hearing of the British Columbia government's appeal against an injunction restraining enforcement of a provincial fuel board order to reduce gasoline prices would begin "some time this afternoon."

The junction, granted October 24 by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, restrained the British Columbia Coal and Petroleum Control Board and Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the board, from enforcing a reduction in gasoline prices ranging from three to six cents a gallon throughout the province.

The Attorney-General was ready to move this afternoon to have the injunction set aside. Associated with him in the appeal are J. Pitcairn Hogg, the province's legislative counsel. Senator J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., is leading counsel for the nine gasoline producing and distributing companies which secured the injunction.

COMPANIES' STATEMENT

Petroleum Industries of British Columbia, the organization of gasoline distributors, today issued a statement declaring the price of gasoline in British Columbia "is not abnormal, but compares very favorably with prices in most outside British Columbia."

"In a Victoria dispatch by the Canadian Press on November 14, Premier Pattullo is quoted as saying: 'The gasoline situation assumed its present aspect because of the abnormal price being charged for gasoline.'

"We feel sure that Premier Pattullo did not intend to convey the impression that the base price of gasoline in British Columbia is high when compared with prices charged elsewhere.

"It will be agreed by every B.C. motorist who has traveled outside British Columbia that the prices charged for gasoline in Vancouver and Victoria, for instance, allowing for the one-fifth larger Canadian gallon, plus sales tax, are practically the same as those in neighboring territories."

BRITAIN PLANS RADIUM PURCHASE

May Obtain $2,500,000 Worth From Canada, Says Minister of Health

WALSALL, Eng. (CP)—Walter Elliot, Minister of Health, today disclosed the government was negotiating for the purchase of £500,000 ($2,500,000) worth of radium—possibly Canadian radium.

Elaborating on the government's cancer plan announced in the House of Commons, Mr. Elliot said the Radium Trust, which would handle the purchase after the cancer bill has been passed by parliament, presumed tenders would be asked in the open market.

The minister added: "There is certainly a possibility of Canadian radium being purchased—we previously have been supplied from that Dominion."

British-Italian Accord Formally Comes Into Force

Conquest of Ethiopia Recognized By United Kingdom

Ceremony in Rome

ROME (CP)—A formal declaration and new credentials for the British ambassador today brought into effect last Easter's broad Anglo-Italian agreement, which, among other things, recognizes Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

VITTORIO EMANUELE

The Earl of Perth, British Ambassador, and Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano signed a brief document in the Victory Room of the Foreign Office. Both said the accord was "entered into with vigor today."

Earlier Lord Perth had presented to Count Ciano new credentials from King George accrediting him to King Vittorio Emanuele as King of Italy and Emperor of Ethiopia.

Removing the last remaining barrier in the path of execution of the accord, Italy a short time ago carried out to British satisfaction a withdrawal of volunteers from Spain.

Russia and the United States are the only big powers which have not yet recognized the Ethiopian conquest. The United States did not participate in the economic sanctions against Italy in 1935 and 1936. Russia, as a Communist government, is not likely to give formal recognition to the Fascist victory.

GRAVE FOUND

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP) — After 22 years, the grave of Alexander C. Park, who enlisted here for service in the Great War, has been found in France, according to advices received from Ottawa by his father.

THREE OF ROYAL SWANS ARE SHOT

Duck hunters, apparently looking for something to shoot when there were no ducks around at Lost Lake at the opening of the season yesterday, shot three of the four royal swans, prized possessions of the city's bird sanctuary at Elk Lake.

Two birds were found floating around in Lost Lake and the third was shot in flight across the railway trestle which spans the lake.

Provincial game wardens and Saanich police are investigating the shooting.

The fourth bird apparently got away safely.

It was reported the swans had flown to Lost Lake in one of their customary flights to lakes around Victoria. They were a familiar sight to hundreds of the city's duck hunters, most of whom had always taken care not to shoot within their vicinity.

CHINESE MOVE TO DEFEND CHANGSHA

All Able Bodied Men Rally as Japanese Near Hunan Capital

CHUNGKING (AP) — Chinese reported Wednesday all able-bodied men were being mobilized to defend Changsha, capital of Hunan province, as the Japanese rapidly approached down the railroad from Yochow, 80 miles to the north.

(Dispatches from Shanghai said the Japanese troops were near Pingkiang, 40 miles northeast of Changsha.)

British-owned buildings were damaged extensively in the Hunan capital as fires set by the Chinese destroyed much of the city. United States property was reported undamaged.

All foreigners were said to be safe.

The Chinese press renewed its claim Chinese troops, "acting on stringent orders of the highest authority," were closing in on the south China metropolis of Canton in a semi-circular movement designed to recapture the city from the Japanese.

CANADIAN WHEAT PRIZE TO ALBERTAN

Exhibit or N. Linden, Wetaskiwin, Leads All at Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Nels Linden of Wetaskiwin, Alta., was named wheat king of the Royal Winter Fair here today, his sample of the Reward variety winning over more than 130 exhibits.

Reserve title was taken by Cecil Trowell of Saltcoats, Sask., with a sample of Minden.

Mrs. C. Kelsey of Erickson, B.C., was awarded fifth prize among unregistered samples of hard wheat with a sample of Marquis.

CREDITS WEATHER

WETASKIWIN, Alta. (CP)—Nels Linden, 69-year-old farmer of this district 40 miles south of Edmonton, received news of winning the title of wheat king at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair as he lay in bed ill with a severe cold today.

Father of six sons and two daughters, Mr. Linden has been a grower of registered seed for 20 years and his wife has been his close ally and assistant. Learning of his victory at Toronto, Mr. Linden said ideal growing weather had been a primary factor in growing the Reward wheat with which he won the title.

Mr. Linden was born at Stockholm, Sweden, and went to Minnesota in the eighties. He came to Alberta in 1905 and settled in the Wetaskiwin district in 1906. His farm, small at first, now extends over 800 acres.

Britain Gives Up No Lands

LONDON (AP)—Malcolm MacDonald, Secretary for Colonies, told the House of Commons today the British government had authorized the announcement that it "did not contemplate the transfer of any territory under British administration."

Such authorization, Mr. MacDonald said, was telegraphed yesterday to the Governor of Tanganyika Territory, former German colony in East Africa, now held by Great Britain under a League of Nations mandate. Intense anxiety had been aroused in Tanganyika over the possibility of a return to Germany in an effort to meet Chancellor Hitler's colonial demands.

Mr. MacDonald replied to Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, who asked him "to make it clear in view of the great anxiety among all classes of the population there (in Tanganyika) that they (the British government) do not contemplate in any foreseeable period the handing over of territories to the bullies of Berlin."

Plants in Canada To Make Bombers For Great Britain

Contracts Made for Planes From Toronto-Montreal Factories

Ten-year Scheme

By GUY RHOADES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—Sir Kingsley Wood, Secretary for Air, announced in the House of Commons today an agreement had been signed between the government and Canadian aircraft manufacturers for an initial United Kingdom order for large bombers.

The air minister said the Canadian aircraft firms concerned had undertaken to maintain during the next 10 years manufacturing capacity available for further potential orders of a similar character if required.

Sir Kingsley made the announcement in reply to a question from Lieut.-Com. Reginald Fletcher, Labor.

He added that "contractual arrangements have been made with the new central company, Canadian Associate Aircraft Limited, which is being brought into being expressly for the purpose of this scheme."

Sir Kingsley said the type of machine to be constructed would be the Hampden and that the agreement represented a considerable development of Canadian manufacturing capacity in preparation for large production of aircraft of a still more advanced type.

TWO ESTABLISHMENTS

The minister said the Associate Company would control the whole scheme and would have two central establishments, at Montreal and Toronto.

These two establishments would in due course develop manufacturing facilities, while also serving as central erecting establishments fed by components supplied by six associated aircraft companies.

These companies are Fleet Aircraft, the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, Canadian Vickers, Fairchild Aircraft, National Steel Car Corporation, and the Ottawa Car Manufacturing Company.

VANCOUVER PLANS

"In addition to arrangements for the group manufacture of large bombers," said Sir Kingsley, "negotiations are now proceeding in London with two Canadian companies for the manufacture of fighter and general reconnaisance types at Fort William and Vancouver, respectively."

BLUBBER BAY MOTION FAILS

Request for Dismissal Of Rioting Charge Is Refused

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice D. Murphy in Assize Court today refused the appeal of Ronald McDonald for dismissal of a charge of rioting and unlawful assembly laid against him following a disturbance at Blubber Bay, B.C., on September 17 when striking and nonstriking employees of the Pacific Lime Company clashed.

A. E. Lucas, defence counsel, asked the charge be dismissed, claiming it should have been incorporated in a previous charge of assault on a British Columbia police constable.

McDonald was sentenced by by Magistrate C. L. Fillmore in district police court to six months imprisonment on the assault charge. He pleaded innocent to the rioting and unlawful assembly charge.

Mr. Justice Murphy also dismissed an application of Stan Abercrombie, Vananda, B. C., logger, for speedy trial on a charge of unlawful assembly.

"It is impossible for the crown to hurry cases on for the convenience of people," he said.

State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arrested In Taxi Racket Inquiry

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles A. Harnett, state commissioner of motor vehicles, was arrested in the district attorney's office today on charges of bribery and extortion.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's office said Hartnett was alleged to have accepted $67,000 in bribes between October, 1934, and January, 1938, from the Parmelee Transportation Company and through three subsidiaries, the National Transportation Company Inc., the Yellow Taxi Corporation and the Hamilton Peters Operating Company Inc.

The action against Harnett was said by Dewey to have resulted from an investigation into what he termed the taxicab racket in which several others have been indicted.

Arraigned in general sessions court a short time after his arrest Harnett pleaded not guilty and bail of $5,000 was fixed on motion of District Attorney Dewey.

Catholics in Roosevelt Plea

German Treatment of Church as Well as of Jews Condemned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today President Roosevelt's condemnation of measures taken against German minorities applied to Catholic elements as well as Jewish.

Stephen Early, press secretary, told reporters the morning newspapers, in referring to the President's formal statement yesterday denouncing the Nazi attacks had "overplayed" the Jewish angle and neglected to point out Catholics also were involved.

He added the statement was intended to take in the stoning of the Catholic cardinal's home in Vienna and measures against Catholics elsewhere who, he said had been mistreated.

Early said the White House had received many telegrams and telephone calls approving Mr. Roosevelt's statement in which he said he "could scarcely believe that such things could occur in a twentieth century civilization."

Any general protest from the United States against mistreatment of German Jews probably will await U.S. Ambassador Hugh Wilson's conference with President Roosevelt, federal officials said.

Expression of this belief followed the President's disclosure he personally had given the order for the United States envoy to return from Berlin at once to report on anti-Semitic violence.

Goering Says Pillagers in Reich Will Be Executed

Austria Chief Quotes Threat Against Any Who Renew Riots

Jews in Hiding

VIENNA (AP) — Joseph Buerckel, commissioner for Austria, announced today Field Marshal Hermann Goering had authorized him to say the person "who makes the next attempt to smash property or to pillage must count on being put against the wall."

HERMANN GOERING

Buerckel made the threat of shooting in reference to anti-Jewish attacks in an address to factory workers in Steyr.

Goering was said to consider last week's anti-Semitic destruction [illegible] the Nazi four-year economic plan which he directs.

An Associated Press dispatch from Berlin last night said Goering's views differed in principle from those of Propaganda Minister Goebbels, who said he approved "inwardly," as he put it, the wholesale demolition started by the riots of last Thursday.

UNDER COVER

BERLIN (AP)—Jews returned to hiding today until after the funeral of the Paris embassy secretary, Ernst von Rath, afraid that the worst of the anti-Jewish attack is yet to come.

The assassination of Von Rath by a Jewish youth started the attack last Thursday. Many hid then to escape arrest, but until today they had begun gradually to reappear about their homes.

Now there is fear the funeral Thursday may stir even more violent feeling among Nazis who consider Von Rath a martyr, and in increasing despair the Jews have adopted secret codes for communication while they keep as much as possible in seclusion.

R. H. Jackson May Join U.S. Cabinet

Trade Pacts To Be Signed Tomorrow

Premier King Goes To Washington For Canada

British Treaty

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King, Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State, and representatives of the British government will sign trade agreements uniting the English-speaking nations in an unprecedented trade union at Washington at 4 p.m. E.S.T. (1 p.m. P.S.T.) tomorrow, it was announced here today.

The Prime Minister will sign for Canada a new Canada-United States trade agreement replacing the existing pact signed November 15, 1935, which will expire at the end of this year.

Canada will be equally interested in the Anglo-American trade agreement, for which negotiations have paralleled the Canadian negotiations which have been going on since early last spring.

It will be an entirely new development in Anglo-American relations, but only a continuation on a more broad and comprehensive basis of the trading arrangements between Canada and the United States.

GUEST AT WHITE HOUSE

Mr. King left Ottawa at 4.30 this afternoon for Washington. After the pact is signed Mr. King will remain as an overnight guest of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. He is expected to be back in Ottawa Monday.

Contents of the agreements will be made public within a few hours after the signature. The Anglo-American pact will be published simultaneously in London and Washington, and the Canada-United States agreement will be released in Washington and Ottawa.

LINDSAY TO SIGN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States State Department announced today the trade agreements with Great Britain and Canada would be signed at the White House tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

For Great Britain, Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay and Arnold Overton, second secretary of the British Board of Trade, will sign. Mr. Overton was head of the delegation which came to this country to negotiate the reciprocal treaty.

The trade agreement with the United Kingdom was completed after six months of negotiation between a special delegation sent here by Great Britain and experts of the U.S. State and Commerce departments.

The British agreement brings the total number of U.S. trade agreements concluded to 19. The Canadian agreement is an enlargement of the existing Canadian agrement, set to expire December 31.

MANY CLASSIFICATIONS

Details of both agreements, including the hundreds of items on which tariff concessions have been made, will be announced for publication Friday morning.

The complete release numbers hundreds of pages, since the agreement with the United Kingdom is the most important yet completed.

It has been regarded as the apex of Secretary Hull's program to stimulate world trade.

The United Kingdom is the United States' best customer, having taken more than $500,000,000 in American exports in 1937.

The agreement with Great Britain embraces also Northern Ireland and the world-scattered British colonial empire, including possessions in Latin America.

The United Kingdom agreement will be accompanied by a note from Great Britain expressing that country's willingness to discuss with the United States many tariff reductions which might follow on other products exported by the United States.

The discussion will take place after Great Britain is released from some of the obligations she owes to the Dominions because of the Ottawa preferential agreements.

"HOSPITALITY" QUESTION

LONDON (CP-Havas) — Ellen Wilkinson, Labor, will ask Prime Minister Chamberlain in the House of Commons tomorrow whether the government used funds from its "hospitality fund" to pay for a reception tendered more than 50 German newspaper correspondents in a large London hotel yesterday.

NEWS OF HUNTER SOUGHT BY POLICE

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Fraser Valley police were searching today for Rupert Williams, 36, whose wife reported him missing after he had failed to return from a week-end hunting trip. Officers expressed belief the man was in no trouble.

Mrs. Williams said her husband left their Vancouver home Saturday, planning to go to Pitt River Bridge, about seven miles east of here, where a gasboat he owns was moored. He was to have returned Sunday night.

British Columbia police said, however, Williams had told an officer at the bridge he intended taking the boat up-river for his hunting trip and that he would not be back until late Tuesday or later.

U.S. LEGION WANTS BRIDGES DEPORTED

Secretary Perkins Urged to Speed Trial of Labor Leader

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Stephen F. Chadwick of Seattle, National commander of the American Legion, demanded of Secretary of Labor Frances E. Perkins today that her department proceed at once with trial of Harry Bridges, west coast director for the Congress of Industrial Organizations on the charge he is an "undesirable alien" and should be deported.

Chadwick made public at a conference of Legion department commanders and adjutants a letter he sent to Miss Perkins yesterday. The letter quoted resolutions passed at the Legion convention in Los Angeles in September demanding deportation of Bridges, an Australian, and charging Labor Department officials had failed to enforce deportation laws and blocked passage of new immigration acts.

BRIDGES SILENT

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Harry Bridges, west coast director of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, said today he had "no comment at this time" on a request by Stephen F. Chadwick, national commander of the American Legion, for a speedy hearing of deportation charges against the labor leader.

Fog Over Europe

LONDON (AP)—One of the worst fogs in years covered the eastern part of England, the English Channel and parts of France, Germany and The Netherlands today, seriously affecting shipping aviation and general transportation.

In many places visibility was zero. Ships in the channel reported they were unable to see the water.

Drowned as Boat Hits Reef

John Kerr, Victoria, Victim of Tragedy Off Coal Island; Companion Saved After Clinging Through Storm All Night to Boat

John Kerr, 34, Victoria, was drowned and James Reid, Sidney, suffered shock and exposure when their small power boat was wrecked on a reef off Coal Island, near Sidney, in rough seas last night.

Reid today was recovering from his experience in Rest Haven Sanitarium, where he was taken this morning by Provincial Police after he had been found this morning, following a night's exposure to the stiff southwest wind.

The two men left Sidney between 5 and 6 yesterday aboard a 29-foot fishing craft, Idle Isle, and when they had been out 15 minutes the engine stopped.

For several hours they attempted to repair the engine, and in the meantime they were swept on to the reef.

Kerr's death followed a desperate struggle against the elements, according to the story told police by Reid.

"I hung on for all I was worth," Reid said. "I was washed overboard many times after the wreck but each time I managed to get back either on the boat or the rocks. For a long while I heard John answer me every time I yelled, but after a while there was no response."

He said Kerr had made an attempt to divest himself of his clothing in order to try and swim for help, and it was while he was doing this he was apparently swept overboard.

Kerr was a strong swimmer and Reid thought it was his intention to swim for help.

Reid shouted all night for help, but his voice was barely a whisper above the roar of wind and waves. It was not until the storm quieted this morning that his cries were heard and rescuers set out from the shore for him.

Kerr, who was born in Ladysmith, was well known in Victoria. He was a brother of Archie Kerr, B.C. Electric operator, who was injured in an auto accident last week. He was formerly in business in Seattle and a few years ago returned to Victoria.

He is survived by his widow and two children, his mother, with whom he lived at 2487 Beach Drive, four sisters and three brothers.

The body was brought to McCall's Funeral Home this morning.

France Not To Cede Colonies

Daladier Says Integrity Of Mandated Lands To Be Guarded

PARIS (AP) — Premier Edouard Daladier today declared his government would cede no colonies to Germany and that it would protect the colonial integrity of France as established after the Great War.

No such measure as cession of colonial territories has even been considered, said the Premier in a statement to the press designed to quiet anxious questions, especially from members of parliament.

The Chamber of Deputies committee on colonies yesterday demanded the government make no commitments concerning the return to Germany of her war-lost colonies in response to Chancellor Hitler's demands without consulting parliament.

(Daladier's statement presumably meant he had no intention of relinquishing Togoland and the Cameroons, held by France under League of Nations mandates. These have frequently been mentioned among the territories that might be handed back.)

STIFF ITALIAN TERMS

Mr. Daladier, threatened with a cabinet split over his financial program, was reported also to have received stiff conditions from Italy as the price of a French-Italian accord.

These demands, said persons close to the foreign office were that France cede to Italy the Djibouti-Addis Ababa railway and the port of Djibouti, in Eritrea, and share with Italy the control of the Suez Canal and the administration of Tunisia.

Such terms were universally acknowledged by parliamentary deputies to be unacceptable to France.

The demands came as a distinct blow to Mr. Daladier's new policy of seeking friendship ac- [illegible] he could better concentrate French strength in solving domestic problems and developing the colonies.

ACCORD WITH GERMANY

A settlement with Germany, it was officially announced, was well on its way and Mr. Daladier was said to hope Andre Francois-Poncet as ambassador at Rome could reach a quick accord with Italy such as was negotiated by Great Britain.

The Premier's suppression of a second group of decree laws was designed to increase the government's supervision over commerce and industry was responsible for the cabinet dissension.

Six of the 17 ministers were reported by sources close to the cabinet to have threatened to resign.

It was said they agreed to hold off any action which might topple the cabinet until after the visit of Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain November 23 and that of King Carol of Roumania late this month.

Stevens for Big Housing Policy

VANCOUVER (CP) — Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstruction M.P. for Kootenay, said in an address here yesterday Canada needed a comprehensive housing policy which would "do more to solve the problem of unemployment, to do away with social discord, than any single thing that can be done."

The former Conservative cabinet minister said housing conditions throughout Canada were a "disgrace," and added Vancouver should be "ashamed of its blocks of wooden shacks rotting on their foundations.

He suggeested Vancouver, with 40,000 reverted tax sale lots, should organize a civic corporation on a business basis to improve the property and use heads of families on relief in building houses for sale on easy terms.

Mr. Stevens said the amounts spent on the Canadian Housing Act and the home improvement plan were inadequate.

ALBERTA BILL ON OIL STUDIED

EDMONTON (CP)—Anticipating appearance before the agricultural committee of the Legislature tomorrow to make representations regarding legislation to conserve oil and gas resources, representatives of oil companies were in session here today.

Consideration is being given the bill, which was submitted to the Legislature yesterday and which gives the Oil and Gas Conservation Board under chairmanship of W. F. Knode, Calgary, extensive powers to enforce its conservation regulations by restricting or prohibiting production.

New Alberni Riding Praised

West Coast Development Proves Worth, Committee Told

The creation of a separate electoral riding for Alberni on Vancouver Island was given the general approval of the Legislature's redistribution committee this morning.

Alberni is now joined with Nanaimo. The new riding will follow the boundaries of the old along Nitinat Lake, then north to Cameron Lake, where it follows the mountain range along the middle of the island, swinging over to the West Coast at Kyoquot. The only change in boundary is to separate the Alberni and Nanaimo sections at Cameron Lake.

"This change is obviously needed," said W. T. Straith, Liberal, Victoria. "Alberni and Nanaimo have no community of interest. With the mining developments at Zeballos and the new mills at Port Alberni, the district is entitled to a separate seat."

Colin Cameron, C.C.F., Comox, said the population of Port Alberni had nearly doubled in recent years due to lumber development.

The redistribution committee got into such an argument over changes in boundaries of some of the interior ridings that several members suggested turning the whole question over to a special commission or a judge.

However, it was decided to go ahead with noncontentious ridings and, for the meantime leave over the ones on which there was argument.

ARGUE ON 5 VOTES

The issue developed after a wrangle between Harry Johnston Liberal, Revelstoke, and Capt. C. S. Leary, Liberal, Kaslo Slocan, over the transfer of an area containing five votes from Kaslo to Revelstoke riding.

"We're not getting anywhere with all this argument," said R. [illegible] Sloan, Conservative leader. "I think the house should appoint an independent commissioner to decide the whole thing."

"Yes, it seems like a hopeless task here. We haven't got anywhere so far," said Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East, and moved that the House be asked to appoint a special committee to sit between sessions and visit all ridings affected.

H. G. T. Perry, Liberal, Fort George, seconded it.

"I've never yet seen a redistribution handled by a committee of the House that was satisfactory," he said. All of us don't know about every other riding. How can we make arbitrary decisions. For instance, the evidence seems to indicate an injustice is being done in The Islands riding."

Capt. Leary insisted the committee had a duty to the House and should not admit it was "snowed under."

"It's not a matter of being snowed under," said Colin Cameron, C.C.F., Comox. "We're either ignorant about other ridings or biased about our own."

COURAGE NEEDED

"I think a commission would make a worse mess of it than we will," said Rolf Bruhn, Conservative, Salmon Arm. "We should not admit lack of courage to deal with it."

"It's not a case of courage," said Mr. Maitland. "I think a judge should do it and then we'll get a report free from all the tugging and pulling we have here."

Mr. Bruhn pointed out that only a few ridings were in actual dispute as far as the report of E. W. Phillips, Vancouver registrar, was concerned.

After some further discussion Mr. Winch withdrew his motion temporarily.

Capt. Macgregor Macintosh, Conservative, The Islands, filed resolutions and petitions of protest from all parts of his riding against its elimination.

E. E. Winch, C.C.F. Burnaby, submitted a letter from C.C.F. constituents there protesting removal of the rural Burnaby section into Dewdney riding.

Mr. Winch said Burnaby, with 20,000 voters, should be a two-member riding.

"Personally I don't mind what you do. We'll hold Burnaby anyway. And if you shift the rural sections into Dewdney we'll win that seat too," Mr. Winch said.

Plane Orders Welcomed

OTTAWA (CP) — Announcement in London of the agreement reached between the British government and Canadian aircraft manufacturers for the building of British military planes in Canada was received with enthusiasm by government officials today.

"That's good news," commented Major-General L. R. LaFleche deputy minister of national defence, who aided in the early stages of the negotiations for the orders. He emphasized, however, the Canadian government is not a party to the contract.

The announcement in London culminates negotiations which have been carried on since early in the year.

Sir Kingsley Wood, Secretary for Air, told the British House of Commons today the type of aircraft to be manufactured for Great Britain under the initial order arranged with plants in Canada is the Hampden, now under production in this country.

"The aircraft orders are due for delivery during 1940," he said "Although it would not be in the public interest to disclose numbers, the orders represent a very considerable development in Canadian manufacturing capacity in preparation for a large production program which will call for aircraft of a still more advanced type and running parallel with the later stages of the initial order."

OTTAWA INFORMED

The minister explained that as far as the Canadian government was concerned the negotiations had taken place between the British government and the Canadian manufacturers, and the Canadian government had been kept informed.

George Buchanan, Independent Labor, asked: "In view of the enormous number of unemployed in the distressed areas could not some of this work be allocated in these areas? Has he (the minister) really come to the conclusion that with 2,000,000 unemployed there are not sufficient persons in this country to produce these aircraft?"

Sir Kingsley said: "It must be obvious to the House that there are further important considerations."

J. J. Lawson, Labor, asked: "Isn't he aware that this is rather a reflection on the lack of efficiency on the part of the government and the part of the people"?

"That shows the falseness and a small conception of the position," the minister replied.

CANADIAN AMNESIA VICTIM IN BRITAIN

Man at Richmond Says He Is K. T. Winton, Prairie Aviator

RICHMOND, Eng. (CP)—A man suffering from amnesia who identified himself as Kaye T. Winton and said he was a former Canadian air pilot was detained today at the Surrey County Council's institution here.

In an English accent Winton told the Canadian Press he came to England aboard the liner Duchess of Bedford, but could not recall how long ago or where he had been since he landed. He walked into the Barnes police station last night without identification papers. He said his passport and other identifications were lost.

Winton said he was born at White Springs, Alta., worked for an air transport company with a base at Regina, and believed he was involved in a crash about four months ago. He recalled his nickname was "Kit" and said those three letters were the radio call of his plane.

REMEMBERS CANADIANS

Asked if he could name any fellow pilots, he said he recalled the name of Peter McGuire and being prompted said he remembered Leigh Britnell, general manager of the Mackenzie Airways, and had a "hazy recollection" of "Wop" May, office chief of the Canadian Airways at Edmonton.

Winton is apparently about 27, five feet seven inches tall, has light brown hair and a moustache, and talks slowly. He said his effort of trying to remember gave him a severe headache.

NAME REMEMBERED

EDMONTON (CP)—W. R. (Wop) May, chief of the Canadian Airways here, said today the name Kaye T. Winton was familiar to him, but he could not place the man.

Leigh Brintnell was away from Edmonton on a trip and could not be reached. He is expected back tomorrow.

Grynszpan Tells Story of Slaying

PARIS (AP)—The 17-year-old boy who started the German anti-Jewish violence was "on his own" for the first time when despair led him to shoot a German embassy secretary, he told police.

Unnerved and tearful after he learned of the Nazi anger at the death of the secretary, Ernst von Rath, the youth said he had been sleeping on park benches and banks of the Seine for two weeks before the attack on November 7. He had been trying to get a job.

Here is the story told by the boy, Herschel Grynszpan, slender, dark-haired, of medium height:

He was born at Hanover, Germany, March 18, 1921, of Polish parents. His father, a tailor, became a naturalized German.

He came to Paris two years ago "because there was no opportunity for one of my race to remain in Germany. I obtained permission from my parents to come to France because I could not continue to be treated like a dog and because I hoped to live and work like other people and not like a hunted beast."

Until two weeks before the shooting of Von Rath, Grynszpan lived with his aunt and uncle, who conduct a small tailor shop in Paris.

$78 FROM FATHER

He decided he wanted to earn his owr living. They consented and gave him 3,000 francs (about $78), which had been sent him by his father.

He was vague about what he did, except for sleeping outdoors during the two weeks up to the night of November 6, when he registered at a hotel.

He bought a gun next morning and shortly before 9 a.m. went to the German embassy. The assault followed.

His immediate resentment, he explained, was because his parents had been ordered to leave Germany, without preparations under a government order expelling many Polish Jews.

MODERATE TREMOR FELT IN JAPAN

No Damage Reported; Quake Leaves Scant Record Here

TOKIO (AP)—An earthquake of moderate intensity shook eastern and central Japan Wednesday night. Early reports told of no damage. The central meteorological observatory estimated the centre was in the sea about 45 miles southeast of Tokio. The shock was believed to be one of a series which began November 5.

Continuous small tremors were recorded in Victoria on the seismograph of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory from yesterday morning until this morning. The vibrations were particularly marked at 11.20 yesterday morning, 1.50 in the afternoon and 9.30 at night, but were not sufficiently significant for any deductions to be made from them, an official of the observatory said.

"Knowing the dreadful methods of vivisection, I became the most vehement opponent of this satanic work, which the vivisectors defend as 'in the name of promoting science' and 'in the interest of suffering mankind . . .' If God allowed man to enrich his knowledge by means of the torture of millions and millions of animals by the most refined means that can be devised by sadistic minds . . . then I should have to doubt the love and mercy of this God. No, a God who is in agreement with vivisection would not, in my eyes, be a loving God. Before such a God I could only feel paralyzing fear and incurable terror . . . I should have to turn my back on Christianity . . . But thank God, Christianity and Christ's doctrine stigmatize vivisection as immoral, as prohibited, as sinful . . ."

Four Abandoned Burning Craft

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia police learned today a crew of four abandoned the fishing boat Lupene A and escaped in a dinghy when the craft burned in Johnstone Strait Sunday.

The men, Captain James W. Matheson, Carl Wagoner, Robert Gordon and Vernon Dovey, were picked up by Fred Wastell, skipper of the gasboat Klinekwa and taken to Telegraph Cove, near Alert Bay off the east coast of Vancouver Island.

The Lupene A was owned by Edmonds and Walker, New Westminster, and operated by Baronet Pass Fishing and Trading Company.

QUEBEC PREMIER DEFENDS PADLOCK

Duplessis Tells Toronto Audience Law Is Needed

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec, in his first public address in Ontario, pleaded last night for national unity, goodwill and co-operation and criticized opponents of Quebec's "padlock law" against Communism because "we need it."

Addressing the inaugral dinner of the Royal Winter Fair, Mr. Duplessis, head of Quebec's Union Nationale Government, said he was the "voice of Quebec."

"It is not a voice based on separatism or parochialism," he told the gathering of nearly 1,000. "It is a national voice. We want to work heart to heart for the welfare of the other provinces. You hear of Quebec being in favor of Fascism. We don't want Fascism and we don't want Communism."

South Africa to Retain Mandate

Will Fight Rather Than Give Up Ex-German Colony, Says Smuts

MARITZBURG, South Africa (AP) — Gen. Jan C. Smuts today declared the Union would fight if necessary to retain the mandate over Southwest Africa, former German colony.

In a speech here the statesman termed a "sacred trust" the League of Nations mandate which was granted South Africa in 1920 to rule the 318,000 square miles of territory taken from Germany in 1915.

"We are going to defend South Africa and its vital interests, including Southwest Africa, to the uttermost," he said.

Gen. Smuts was chief of the forces which ousted Germany from Africa as a colonial power during the Great War. Then he went to Britain and served as a member of the War Council, and later became Prime Minister of South Africa. Now he is Minister of Justice.

Speaking of Defence Minister Oswald Pirow's current visit to Europe, Gen. Smuts declared "Mr. Pirow has gone to see if he can get from the British government and British manufacturers the means of defence which are vitally necessary for protection of the Union of South Africa.

"We have found it very difficult to move Britain so far. There is a gigantic struggle going on there for the self-defence of Britain, who is busy with her program of rearmament.

"We are far away and perhaps we are small here. They may not appreciate as fully as we do here in South Africa that we must have the equipment and mechanical armament that is necessary for defence of this most important station in the world.

"Mr. Pirow has gone to persuade our friends in Britain to help us."

"When the farmer isn't prospering, neither is the man in the town or city," Mr. Deachman said.

CALGARY (CP) — Plans for the establishment of a farm in the Calgary district, where juvenile delinquents from all parts of the province could receive correction on the "big brother" ideal, were made at an organization meeting of the Juvenile Readjustment Society here last night. Canada-U.S. Pact Part of Program

Signing of Agreement Tomorrow Will Extend King Trade Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—When the revised Canada-United States trade agreement is signed at Washington tomorrow it will mark another milestone in the program of trade extension adopted by the present government immediately [illegible] October 1935.

If the new agreement is involved with the Anglo-American trade agreement to the extent anticipated by recent speculation, it will probably be the most important stage in Canada's trade program in many years.

Within less than a month after the Liberal party was returned to power in 1935, Prime Minister King proceeded to Washington, where a Canadian mission, sent there by the former Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, had been endeavoring to reach a trade agreement with the United States.

On November 11, 1935, Mr. King at Ottawa and President Roosevelt at Washington announced agreement in principle had been reached and that a reciprocal trade pact would be signed shortly. The actual signing was November 15 and the agreement became effective January 1, 1936, for a period of three years, or longer if not revised or terminated by six months' notice.

EUROPEAN PACTS

Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Trade, then set forth on a mission that took him through Europe and to Russia, with the result that a trade agreement was reached with Germany, the mutual embargoes which had brought trade to a standstill with Russia were removed and groundwork laid for better trade relations with other countries.

Mr. Euler also went to Australia and New Zealand, sister Dominions with which Canada already had agreements but not on a mutually satisfactory basis.

There were some changes in the agreements with the two antipodean countries but no actual revisions in whole have yet been concluded. These agreements were extended.

The Canada-United Kingdom trade agreement, negotiated by the Bennett government during the Imperial Economic Conference in Ottawa in 1932, for a period of five years, was revised and extended substantially unchanged in principle, although it had been assailed by the Liberals in opposition.

Big Wheat Loss In Australia

MELBOURNE, Victoria (AP) — Plagues of insects and drought were said today to have resulted in a 75 per cent reduction in Victoria's estimated wheat crop of 12,000,000 bushels. Caterpillars, grasshoppers and other insects are raving crops throughout the state.

Hearst Art Groups On Sale in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — World famous exhibits from William Randolph Hearst's New York [illegible] tion were on public display today on 57th Street, New York's "art gallery row."

The pieces put on exhibition yesterday for sale on five floors of the Parish-Watson Galleries include rare tapestries, paintings of many schools, stained glass dating back to 1390, armor and mediaeval carving.

The 74-year-old publisher decided last March to disperse about $150,000,000 worth of his art collection, on which he spent much of his spare time for many years. His rare manuscripts soon will go on display at another gallery.

The pieces on display now range from "toby jugs" to 15th century wall hangings of crimson velvet.

Canada's Links With Italy Studied

Premier Silent on Whether King Recognized As Ethiopia Emperor

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King is not prepared to comment, as yet, on a London report that when the Earl of Perth presented his credentials at Rome today as British ambassador to the court of "the King of Italy and Emperor of Ethiopia," he was automatically recognizing, on behalf of Canada, the Italian conquest of the African domain.

"That is a large question and I would rather reserve any comment until another time," the Prime Minister said at a press conference at which he answered questions following a meeting of the cabinet yesterday.

While the credentials of the Earl of Perth did not mention Canada specifically, it was interpreted in the London report the ambassador was representing all parts of the Empire not already represented by a minister in Rome.

It was reported in London New Zealand had opposed recognition of the Italian conquest, but if the government of that dominion wishes to take an independent stand it would be necessary to appoint a minister of its own with credentials to the "King of Italy," without mentioning the Emperor of Ethiopia.

South Africa already had taken steps to give new credentials to its minister at Rome. Eire took the formal step some months ago.

New Measures to Check Wheat Pest

[illegible] the pale western cutworm, a wheat pest, Harold L. Seamans, Lethbridge entomologist, has been awarded the 1938 medal of the Professional Institute of the Civil Service.

The award is made annually for meritorious public service by a civil servant.

J. C. Beauchamp, president of the institute, yesterday said the service rendered by Mr. Seamans and his associates at the Dominion Department of Agriculture's entomological laboratory at Lethbridge, of which Seamans is the head, "is regarded as probably the most important contribution to entomology in years and should reflect a benefit of millions of dollars to our farmers and therefore the public generally, if they take advantage of the Lethbridge laboratory method."

No Tag Day for Spain Veterans

NANAIMO—No tag day will be held for men who return from fighting in Spain, the city council decided Monday night by a vote of four to two.

Discussion on the matter arose out of a letter written by G. Les Strange pointing out to the council that the evacuation of Canadian volunteers in loyalist Spain had created an emergency. Two Nanaimo men, C. Beasor, suffering from shrapnel wounds in his leg, and Shand Robertson, suffering with a stiff hand, were concerned, he wrote.

CHAMBERLAIN UPHELD ON VOTE

LONDON (CP)—The House of Commons last night defeated the Labor amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne by a vote of 341 to 151.

The amendment expressed regret at the absence from the Speech from the Throne of any reference "to the serious problem of unemployment represented by the nearly 2,000,000 men and women who cannot find work."

It further deplored the "failure" to recognize the real strength and prosperity of the people depended on full use of the country's resources, equitable distribution of wealth and development of social services.

Sir John Simon, speaking for the government, asserted the problem of unemployment was being attacked from a number of directions, including external policy, financial possibility and the encouragement of trade.

Three-quarters Hail Losses To Be Paid

REGINA (CP)—For the first time in 20 years, or since the present method of collections was set up, the Saskatchewan Municipal Hail Association will not make full payment on adjusted losses this year. A 75 per cent payment will be made and the balance of payment will depend entirely on future collections.

The total of adjusted losses for the year stands at $971,000, well above the average, but far under the peak reached in 1930, around $2,500,000. The adjusted loss last year was around $130,000.

The directors had to dispose of $250,000 in bonds to be able to make the 75 per cent payment. The banks were asked for a loan, but, for the first time in 20 years, the loan was refused.

Old-time Cowichan Resident Succumbs

DUNCAN—The death occurred at the King Daughters' Hospital Monday night of William Swinerton, after a long illness. Mr. Swinerton was born in Ireland 76 years ago. He resided in Victoria and was one of the first men to be employed on the E. & N. Railway. He settled at Lake Cowichan among the first settlers, and lived there until he moved to Duncan about four years ago, and had been a patient in the hospital most of the time since. Mr. Swinerton is survived by a brother, Robert Swinerton, of Victoria.

OTTAWA (CP) — Major-General T. V. Anderson, quartermaster-general, will succeed Major-General E. C. Ashton as chief of the general staff shortly. Gen. Ashton is to "undertake inspection duties of a special nature for which he is particularly well fitted," according to an announcement by the Dept. of National Defence.

Gen. Ashton has been chief of the general staff since May, 1935, when he succeeded Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton.

Gen. Anderson has just returned from Great Britain, spent several months "on special duty."

The department announced also that Major-General Clyde Caldwell had vacated the appointment of master-general of the ordnance, his place being taken by Brigadier W. H. P. Elkins.

Brigadier H. F. H. Hertzberg succeeds Maj.-Gen. Anderson as quartermaster-general.

Maj.-Gen. Anderson during the Great War went to England with the 36th Canadian Infantry Battalion. He commanded the 9th Canadian Reserve Infantry Brigade and the Canadian Training Division at Shorncliffe, being promoted brigadier-general in March, 1917.

He also commanded the 15th Brigade of the 5th Canadian Division in England uuntil November, 1917, when he was recalled for duty as adjutant-general in Canada.

Premiers in New Talks in Australia

CANBERRA (CP-Reuters) — Conflicting viewpoints between Commonwealth and state governments have led to only partial success in the search for an Australian national security formula, according to leading political writers.

At a loan council meeting here, when the state premiers conferred with federal ministers, only one of the two objectives of the Commonwealth government was achieved—an agreement that as far as possible the states will co-operate in carrying out works of a defence value.

The second objective — an agreement for a co-operative development policy—will be resubmitted to another Premiers' conference soon.

The Voice of Smuts

SOLDIER-STATESMAN GENERAL JAN Smuts now announces definitely that the Union of South Africa will fight if necessary to retain her mandate over Southwest Africa. He declares this piece of former German territory of 318,000 square miles, granted to South Africa under a League of Nations mandate in 1920, is still regarded by the government of which he is a member as a "sacred trust."

This clear definition of policy from one of the most brilliant of Empire statesmen is the sequel to many protests which have reached the British Government from various public men and official and semiofficial bodies in both Southwest Africa and Tanganyika—formerly German East Africa—against any surrender to the Nazi demands in respect of these mandated areas. It is nothing if not a pointed warning to the administration at Westminister that it may look for trouble with the Union of South Africa if its "appeasement" program shall be extended to include the restoration of, at least, that part of Germany's former colonial empire in which General Smuts has more than a passing interest.

It was General Smuts, of course, who commanded the forces which ousted Germany from South Africa as a colonial power during the Great War. It was General Smuts who gave brilliant leadership to the forces of his native land when they fought British soldiery during the Boer War of 1899-1902. He was the staunchest supporter of British policy when the Act of Union framed by the Liberal administration of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman began to operate in 1910. After his military service had been completed against German troops in Africa he was called to London to take a seat on the Imperial War Council. In the intervening years he has served his country well, both as one of its governors and as leader of the opposition, and latterly in intimate association, as Minister of Justice, with his former political opponent.

Not only because of these significant antecedents of the statement to which General Smuts has given expression today, but also because of the influence he has for some years wielded in Empire affairs, the government at Westminister now is obviously confronted with a challenge against which sophistry will be about as effective as darts against a tank. This is not an assumption that such pro-Nazi elements as may be influencing foreign policy in Downing Street had tried to make up the cabinet's mind to restore Germany's former colonial possessions to the continually expanding Third Reich. But it is to emphasize the suggestion that in dealing with any of the grown-up members of the British Commonwealth of Nations it would seem to be especially desirable for Mr. Chamberlain and his colleagues to review in all their ramified significance the implications of the Statute of Westminster and the common usage among the loosely linked Empire family to which that instrument imparted definite legal status.

It is well that General Smuts has spoken. There is even the possibility that Reichsfuehrer Hitler will detect in the South African statesman's tone a contrast with the weak voice of Downing Street. Some of the members of the British cabinet, too, may interpret his words as a reminder that government leaders in the various Dominion capitals these days are doing a good deal of furious thinking on their own account.

Better Business

INDEXES OF BUSINESS ACTIVITY IN Canada, United States, and, to some extent, in Great Britain, recently have been more encouraging than for some months. As the economist of the Royal Bank sees it they indicate that the general decline reported in the early months of the current year has been effectively halted in all three countries. During the summer months, many of these indexes moved in a more or less horizontal direction, suggesting that the strength of the recession had been largely exhausted. In August and September, substantial improvement was reported in many leading branches of industry, particularly in Canada and the United States. Operations, although still considerably lower than in the corresponding months of 1937, were generally on a higher level than at any other time so far this year.

Great Britain and the United States together absorb approximately 75 per cent of the total exports of Canada each year, and industrial conditions in these countries exert an important influence on the economic life of the Dominion. With the recession of business in the United States, purchases from Canada were greatly reduced. Substantial recovery has now been reported in the United States while in Great Britain the decline has at least been arrested. It is to be noted that the serious drop in British export trade during the last 12 months is reflected in the growth of unemployment compared with this time in 1937. In Canada, however, with the stimulus of the increased industrial activity of our most important customers, we may anticipate some expansion in our exports and further improvement in general business conditions.

Mr. Roosevelt Speaks

STATEMENTS FROM THE WHITE House yesterday indicate fairly clearly how President Roosevelt feels about the latest display of Nazi brutality in Germany and what his country is prepared to do against any possible encroachment by European political diseases. The chief executive said he could "scarcely believe" that Germany's campaign against the Jews "could occur in a 20th-century civilization," that "the news of the past few days has deeply shocked public opinion in the United States." Furthermore, and in order to get a first-hand report of what has been going on in the Teutonic republic, he has instructed United States ambassador Hugh R. Wilson to leave Berlin for Washington immediately. At his usual press conference the President also announced that he and his advisers are considering an increased air force as the first step to insure protection for Canada and the 20 American republics of this hemisphere—nor did he anticipate any defection from complete solidarity in this new defence move.

What effect plain talk from the head of the wealthiest and one of the most influential nations of the world will have on the ruling gentry of Berlin remains to be seen. Prior to 1914 such statements as those to which we have referred would have been interpreted as good and sufficient cause for the generation of an intense war atmosphere. Vastly changed circumstances, scientific developments almost undreamed of a quarter of a century ago, however, permit some "streamlined" declarations from men in high places either to go unheeded or rob them of most of their actual or potential implications. It is none the less a dull brain in Berlin or Rome, in London or Paris, which fails to comprehend the far-reaching significance of the statements from this 1938 President of the United States.

Poor Salesmanship

GERMAN ENGINEERS WITH A GREAT mechanical tradition behind them have developed an automobile which it is hoped may be sold on the installment plan to Germans for less than $400.

It would appear that the police are doing much to cure whatever automotive appetite there may be in the residents of Berlin. Drivers of automobiles who violate minor laws are subject to cruel discipline. The offender is not arrested. His tires are deflated and he is left to his own devices and the mercy of the gathering crowd to get them pumped up again. While pumping the tire up or changing it he must dodge traffic in order to save his life and limbs. It is not difficult to believe that an individual who has been through that experience would become slightly seasick at the mention of another automobile ride.

The joys of motoring are manifold, but pumping up tires on Adolf Hitler Platz, or Unter den Linden, or near any of Berlin's famous show places, while a crowd of jeering compatriots look on is not one of them. Adolf's auto boom will die on his doorstep if motorists have to put up with this sort of regulation.

Swiss Want No Fascists

GALLANT, PEACEFUL, AND PROGRESsive Switzerland has served notice on despotically-inclined political groups and their journalistic organs that totalitarian ideas and practices within the boundaries of the republic will be dealt with just as sternly as democratic usage is dealt with in the neighboring brownshirt and blackshirt countries. So that there shall be no mistake about its intentions the government at Berne has just banned three Swiss newspapers guilty of spreading the authoritarian word of dictator-emulating groups whose headquarters already had been raided and its officials warned.

While the basic industries of Switzerland, such as agriculture, and the manufacture of cheese and condensed milk, watches, clocks, and embroideries constitute the greater part of her economy, the republic's attractions for all-the-year-round holidaymakers guarantee her much annual wealth. It is partly on this account, therefore, notwithstanding a natural desire to protect the traditional spirit of democracy among her 4,000,000 population, that she will tolerate none of the new technique as practiced by the "special agents" of the Nazi and Fascist realms bordering part of her territorial limits. She wants comfort and freedom for her thousands of visitors as well as for her own people.

The nations of the world continue to bolster their arms programs, but nobody has yet offered to pillow the taxpayer.

While photographs of the new coiffures intrigue us, close observation is apt to convince one that some hair-do and some hair-don't.

Franz von Papen, former chancellor of Germany, announces his retirement from public life. Two of his secretaries were killed in Nazi purges. Franz can take a hint.

THE LIBERAL SWING

From Vancouver Sun

Hon. R. J. Manion, as leader of the Conservative Party, has been elected to the House of Commons from Brandon. He should not even have been opposed. As a matter of courtesy he should have been permitted to step into the seat without opposition. (He was opposed by C.C.F.—not by Liberals.)

This, together with three other by-elections, makes four contests of the kind completed last night.

Of these seats, three had been held by Conservatives, one by a Liberal. Two are now held by Conservatives and two by Liberals.

There is no comment to make except that the swing towards Liberalism in Canada is still continuing.

LOST BUDGET

IN THIS CURRENT DEBATE on the budget, possibly the only thing under heaven which is not being mentioned at all is the budget.

This must be prettty satisfactory to the government, for, after all, no matter how good your budget may be, you thrust it out into a cruel world expecting it to have a pretty rough time. But apart from Mr. Anscomb's speech Monday—and it in very general terms—the budget has escaped so far without the least damage, and the budget debate has got off to the dullest start on record.

Apparently the C.C.F. is scorning the budget altogether; won't deign to discuss the sordid figures of finance. Mr. Winch ignored it Monday. Mrs. Steeves continued to ignore it Tuesday — a studied affront to the poor, neglected budget which no one seemed to resent. By the time the weary day was over, the budget seemed to be lost completely and forgotten.

Mrs. Steeves, of course, is always lively and whimsical, but not as lively or as whimsical as she used to be.

She and the other Socialists entered this House five years ago apparently in the belief that the revolution was at hand, that capitalism was in the last throes, and that the C.C.F. might be called in at any minute —or at least in a year or so, to save the state.

Those were exciting times for a Socialist. Budgets were collapsing. Governments were desperate. It looked, here, at least, like the well-known Decline of the West. No wonder C.C.F. members were full of beans in those days; no wonder Mr. Winch jeered; no wonder Mrs. Steeves was full of a kind of suppressed excitement and anticipation, and full of merry jests and barbed sarcasms.

ARRESTED DECLINE

THE PRESENT BUDGET shows that things have changed, for the better or for the worse, according to your point of view. Everyone in the C.C.F. knows now that the revolution is not at hand, the government is not desperate and, if the West is declining, the process has been interrupted temporarily.

So you notice in the C.C.F. benches a more staid and sober look, as if they have reconciled themselves to a capitalism which, like the second Charles, is unconscionably long-lived. So long, in fact, that Mrs. Steeves and the others are content for the moment to suggest improvements within the existing framework of society, pending its final end, which may still be some time off.

Her speech Tuesday, devoted to such improvements, was excellent, like all her speeches. It reflected clearly, however, the sobering effect of a fat budget, a rising revenue and better times on a Socialist of the left wing. There were none of the old jests in it, none of the old word pictures which for years have been quite the most charming scenery available in these rather dismal premises.

As for the budget, she dismissed it with a wave of the hand—its surplus built on the misery of the people, its balance reflecting a complete lack of balance in our economy, and its revenues not due to the wisdom of the government but to its good luck and the whole thing a miserable farce.

If ever anyone had a chance to make capitalism work, said Mrs. Steeves, it was this government—a flattering estimate of the government's power—and it had failed, for capitalism was not working. To prove it, she launched into a masterly lecture on the social system as seen by a woman and a mother—the undernourishment of children, the high incidence of disease among those on relief, the decreasing stature and weight of poor children, the reproduction of the unfit while the fit could not afford to bear children.

QUIET MAN

A QUIET, SANE MAN is Mr. Johnson of Revelstoke, who seldom speaks, but sits back and listens much. He spoke briefly and to the point about the Big Bend Highway through his riding, which, he says, can be kept open all year and should be maintained by the federal government.

Having listened to Chief Forester Manning in the morning, he demanded of the government which he supports a new deal for our forests. They cannot be put on a permanent basis, he said, until their maintenance is a first charge on the revenues they produce. At present, of course, most of the forest revenues are used for other purposes.

HAPPY SOUL

HOWARD FORESTER wound up the day in his usual breezy fashion. He is one of our eternal optimists who loves the House, loves the government and loves the game of politics with a boyish innocence delightful to behold. There may be temporary difficulties, there may be some questions of finance and that kind of thing, but on the whole the world, at its worst, looks good to Mr. Forester and, with this government in office, it looks just about perfect.

Mr. Forester had come to the House loaded down with figures about his constituency of Vancouver and built them into a highly competent address on the municipal finance problem.

But in the end he sought comfort in that great white hope, the Rowell Commission's report. Out of it, thought Mr. Forester, would come a solution of our provincial troubles and aid for our municipalities.

It seems to escape general notice that if the Rowell Commission is going to give the provinces more revenue, and they are going to give more to the municipalities, the taxpayers are all going to pay more, and most of them in Canada live in municipalities.

Meanwhile, Mr. Forester's defence of the municipalities grew so vigorous that, in the opinion of Mr. Winch, an electrician, he blew the fuses of the Parliament Buildings out. Anyway, the House was plunged suddenly into darkness and the budget was lost altogether.

Motorcar History

THE recent death of Charles Duryea, who started building an automobile in 1891, recalls to the Chicago News the long-unsettled dispute over credit for the invention of the motor car. Three standard encyclopedias show little agreement in their listings of inventors who aided in the development of self-propelled vehicles, the grand total being some 57 names.

Nicholas Cugnot built a steam-propelled carriage in France in 1770. He was followed shortly by Oliver Evans in America and Richard Trevithick in England. As automobiles they had little success; as locomotives these experiments were much more productive. From time to time during a century other steam carriages were tried out on highways. The motor car was a little nearer after the work of Gottlieb Daimler and Karl Benz in Germany with the internal-combustion engine in 1885 and 1886. Narkus and Krebs were other claimants.

Charles Duryea, who was born on a farm near Canton, Ill., built a car in 1891 and ran it on a highway in 1892. One he built the following year is now in the U.S. National Museum, as is one built by Elworth Hayes of Kokomo, Ind., in 1894, which is said to be the first one that was practically successful. But there is along list of disputants—Ford, Olds, Winton, King, Maxwell, Apperson, Riker, Clarke, Stanley, Franklin, White and Schloemer, to say nothing of George B. Selden, to whom all automobile manufacturers at one time paid royalties because of his basic patents granted in 1895.

DISASTER FACING DEMOCRACIES

From Financial Post

Walter Lippman is pessimistic in his estimate of the consequences of the Munich peace. He stresses the fact that both Britain and France suffered there "a great defeat."

Taking Herr Hitler's word that the Sudeten land is the last territorial demand he has to make in Europe, Mr. Lippman suggests that the next critical issue will be around what is "politely called the colonial problem."

"I say 'politely called the colonial problem' because it will no more be a colonial problem than the Sudetens were a problem in self determination.

"It will be the problem of empire and the control of the seas, just as the Sudetens were the problem of military supremacy on the continent of Europe and the disruption of the French and British military system."

Mr. Lippman suggests the acid test for the two great democratic nations in meeting this challenge is whether or not the British people will adopt conscription and whether the French take drastic measures to put their capital and labor to work. These two countries, he feels, must be prepared to make promptly heroic sacrifices, subject themselves to discipline, overcome internal disunion and prepare themselves for "the crucial ordeal of their existence as great world powers."

On these questions, he believes, hangs the issue as to whether the Munich defeat is or is not to become an epoch-making disaster.

PATHETIC FALLACY

Leslie Nelson Jennings, in New York Sun

Now, when the woods begin to glow
Autumnally, one ought to know
That Nature's artistry is still Attributable to Xanthophyll.
One should be thankful, if one can,
For so much stored Anthocyan
In elm and beech and maple, whose
Reactions one would hate to lose.
Science has spiked another myth
That we've been rather taken with.
It isn't frost that kindles flame,
But something with a longer name;
It isn't Winter's chilly hand
That lights these torches in the land,
But Chemistry, whose wonders are
So brilliantly spectacular.
Well, doubtless the inquiring mind
Will be much comforted to find
What turns the leaf to red and ~~gold~~
Is nothing magic to behold.
Poor Poet, in your Ivory Tower,
I'm not surprised you look so dour
In these, the melancholy days,
When earth is everywhere ablaze.
For Xanthophyll is pretty hard
On even the stoutest-hearted bard
These conflagrations all seem dim—
And oh, the difference to him!

It is up to the new generation to clean up the mess my generation has made.—Dr. Henry E. Riggs, president of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

VISITORS TO ENGLAND AND INCOME TAX

To the Editor:—In consequence of a legal decision there has been a complete change in the basis of liability to English income tax in the case of visitors.

It is fairly well known that a visit of more than 182 days in a financial year involves liability and in order to avoid this liability it has become the practice for funds to be remitted for living expenses in the year prior to that in which the visit is made.

The decision referred to above completely alters the position, and readers making arrangements for long leave in England or for return there on retirement, are advised most strongly to obtain reliable advice as to the present tax position.

The old methods of minimising liability are not only useless in most cases, but may now have the opposite effect to that intended.

LONG CONFLICT

To the Editor:—Far from being a mere military struggle between two cat-and-dog-like nations is this Asiatic conflict. Otherwise the desertion of Canton and the fall of Wu-Han would spell the ultimate doom of the Chinese nation and a complete conquest for Japan. But being basically a gigantic conflict of idealism, crash of temperaments and struggle of the spirit, and although the military war seems approaching its capitulation with the fall of Hankow, the last bulwark of organized Chinese resistence, the conflict is but commencing.

This struggle of the two Asiatic peoples will be a long-drawn and strictly private affair wherein the two opposing mass of peoples must settle their differences with their own peculiar ways. The white man at this junction has been notably impotent. China like an old man worn out with age and sorrow has been throughout the conflict stretching forth his arms imploringly to the western powers for justice. Justice was not forthcoming. So the old man is being beaten to his last gasp of breath by a savage and robust youth.

LIN YU TUNG.

A RACE OF MORAL COWARDS

To the Editor:—There recently appeared a small paragraph relating to the trial and execution of alleged traitors by the Madrid junta. It is the usual policy of the Soviet butchers, who have respect neither for sex nor age, to put up a mock trial first.

It is difficult to understand how normal people should become so blinded by prejudice and steeped in such ignorance of plain facts as to continue to call this gang of foreign mercenaries "loyalists." Gen. Franco, in his reply to the papal nuncio appointed recently to the Burgos government, says:

"... Say to the Holy Father that it is not Spain, nor true Spaniards who in obedience to foreign orders, burn the churches of the Lord, martyrize His ministers and destroy implacably and with unheard-of fury, everything in our country that signified, at the same time that it manifested culture, an expression of Catholic faith."

There is one answer to this question of why such invincible ignorance exists. It is in the continued Communistic propaganda of lies that comes over the radio in the form of news, commentaries, readings.

If men in general had the moral courage to face the truth, there would be less strife and bitterness in our disputes. We have become a race of moral cowards. While there is a miserable pretence of atheism abroad, there is at the same time deep down in the hearts of such wretches a fear of the God who has said, and who has proved his words many times: "Vengeance is mine, I will repay."

SUBVERSIVE ELEMENTS

To the Editor:—You report a meeting of the 20th Century Young Liberals Association, at which a motion was passed, sponsored by Peter G. Hartnell, urging that the campaign of subversive elements seeking to discredit the government and the forces of law and order in the province should be curbed. For once I heartily agree with Mr. Hartnell and his friends. It is all too painfully apparent that subversive elements in Britain in recent weeks have sabotaged the principles which Britishers have for generations held most dear—honor, integrity and valor unto death in defending Christian ideals.

My advice to fellow Canadians is to take out a policy of "Hell" insurance before the same subversive Fascist elements flare forth here and seal our fate as freemen.

Sees Sales Tax If Ottawa Fails

But J. H. Forester Confident Cities Will Get Help

If the Rowell Commission does not produce help for the province so it can relieve municipalities of social service costs B.C. may have to resort to a token sales tax, J. Howard Forester, Liberal, Burrard, warned in the Legislature yesterday.

"Many of the states to the south have resorted to this tax," he said," and it would be fairer to collect these charges in this way than from property owners.

Mr. Forester said he always believed charges for schools, hospitals and relief should be paid out of income tax. Vancouver's costs for these services were $4,542,476 a year, or 31.64 per cent of its total budget.

The member said, however, he was confident B.C. would get a better deal from the Rowell Commission, either through a larger share of the income tax or an increased federal subsidy. Then it would not have to resort to a token tax.

"I feel sure our government will relieve the municipal burden when it has these matters adjusted," he said.

Mr. Forester gave the House a complete review of Vancouver's statistics, in course of which he said the city was laid out to accommodate 6,000,000 people if necessary.

He attacked the proposal of Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East, for an excess profits tax as stifling to industrial development, defended B.C. succession duties as the lowest in Canada except for Prince Edward Island, and concluded with a plea for resumption of work on the Lougheed Highway.

25 Years Ago

NOVEMBER 17, 1913

(From the Times Files)

At "Breadalbane," the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. Dr. Campbell, on Saturday evening celebrated the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Manson of this city and Mr. Charles Wm. Keeper of London, Eng. The bride was gowned in a handsome traveling suit of navy blue serge, with hat to match, and was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Manson. George Collier Laing acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Keeper will live in Victoria.

Jack Ulritch, Victoria's famous "pinch" goal-getter, is working harder than ever to get a place on the team this year, and has announced that he will either make a place on the team or go back to the prairies.

A new way of advertising the resources, climate and habitable benefits of British Columbia has been devised and executed by H. T. Martin, the advertising manager of the Dominion Stock and Bond Corporation Ltd. of Vancouver, who is in Victoria on business.

That is it impossible for high-powered motor cars to keep within the limit of 10 miles per hour imposed by the Motor Act was urged in police court today by two motorists who were charged with speeding. Both the owners assured the court that it was not possible to keep within the limit, and that as a matter of fact nearly every car is driven at about 25 miles an hour when it gets into the outskirts of the city. The usual fine of $20 was imposed in each case.

Mangrove trees do not scatter seeds as do most trees. Such seeds would be swept away by water which covers the roots at high tide. The young plants are developed on the tree, instead, and then fall like spears into the mud below.

Polaris, the North Star, is becoming more truly the "pole star." Two hundred years from now it will be within one-quarter of a degree of the celestial pole.

C.C.F. Groups to Name Candidate

Choice of a C.C.F. candidate for the next Federal election in Victoria will be made within the next two and a half months, it was decided at a campaign conference of the party Monday night.

All C.C.F. clubs will be asked to nominate prospective candidates and balloting will be completed by the end of January.

A campaign committee was chosen and a constituency coordinator selected to start organization. The first meeting of the campaign committee was set for next Monday night.

New officers of the Victoria district council were announced as follows: President, S. F. Newell; vice-president, Mrs. A. Ray; executive secretary and delegate to the provincial council, Nigel Morgan; assistant secretary, Miss Doris Cornett; treasurer, F. Elsmore.

A great deal of study was needed to work out the present day calendar, yet it is not regarded as fully satisfactory.

Natives of the tropics use the juice of a fruit (the tropical papaya) to tenderize their meats, since meat cannot be hung because of spoilage.

Bolivia a Land of Extraordinary Contrasts

Mrs. Madge McBeth Entertains Club With Racy Address

Bolivia was vividly pictured as georgeously picturesque and delightfully unspoiled, a land of amazing contrasts, with superlative beauty side by side with unbelievable squalor, in the entertaining and informative address given by Mrs. Madge McBeth of Ottawa before about 500 members of the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon. The talk was illustrated with a number of colored slides.

"100 FEET FROM HEAVEN"

The South American republic was described by Mrs. McBeth as one of the highest inhabited countries of the world, where the people live "100 feet from heaven," or, in other words, at an average altitude of 10,000 feet above sea level. Superlatives are inevitable in describing Bolivia, noted the speaker, as she recalled that it is "a country of many 'ists'"—one of the highest inhabited countries in the world, possessing the largest borax lake, the greatest tin and bismuth products in the world, the highest 18-hole golf course, and where the Andes attain their greatest breadth.

Archeologists find it intensely interesting, one part of the country bearing evidences of two complete civilizations which antedate the Inca dynasty. Its history has also been colorful and romantic, and over 100 presidents, each of whom were ostensibly elected for four-year terms, ruled its destinies in 100 years.

BOTH SIDES WON

Mrs. McBeth recalled that Bolivia and Paraguay fought for five years over Chaco, a strip of land on which the Doukhobors settled when they left Canada, and at the end of that time both considered they had won—a most satisfactory conclusion to hostilities, the speaker observed with a smile.

A breezy description was given of the journey over the Andes from Peru, a railway which represents an amazing engineering feat, an ascent of 15,000 feet in the first stage of the journey. She also spoke of the crossing of Lake Titicaca, on whose barren shores was a Canadian Baptist Mission, to La Paz, one of the two capitals of Bolivia.

PRIMITIVE METHODS

The charm of La Paz lay in its people, their strange costumes and customs. "In that city of 200,000 people you have to go to the post office to mail or collect letters, as there are no branch post offices or mail boxes and no letter carriers." Llamas are the chief beasts of burden and method of transportation.

In its thin, rarified air water takes twice as long to boil and rooms take twice as long and require twice as much fuel to heat, she said. For the same reason, wounds or sores require twice as long to heal, and, as Bolivia is infested with voracious insects of every description, sickness is virulent.

Mrs. Harold L. Campbell, the president, thanked Mrs. McBeth for her delightful travelogue, and presented her with a copy of the club's book, "Pioneer Women of British Columbia." Thanks were also tendered to Mr. A. S. Huxtable, who operated the lantern.

Miss Sheila Conway sang with much charm "Down the Vale" and "Annie Laurie," accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Warn.

Mrs. Macbeth was the guest speaker at the Duncan Women's Canadian Club meeting on Monday, when she gave her lecture on "Bolivian Highlights." Mrs. D. A. Girvin proposed the vote of thanks. Mrs. Cyril Pitt, president, was in the chair and there was a very good attendance.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Mrs. E. W. Hamber entertained at a luncheon party today at Government House, when her guests included the wives of the cabinet ministers and private members of the Legislature. Thirty-five guests were entertained, covers being laid at a table centred with an artistic arrangement of pale pink Enchantress carnations, and deeper pink antirrhinums and maidenhair fern, with tall green tapers in silver candelabra.

Weddings

OLMSTEAD—BROOCKE

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday evening at the Shawnigan Lake home of the bride's parents, when Loraine Marie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Broocke, and Mr. Lawrence Wilson Olmstead, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Olmstead of Redonda Bay, were united in marriage by Rev. G. R. B. Kinney.

The house had been effectively decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers and leaves. The bride, who entered the room with her father, was charming in a full length gown of ecru lace over peach, and carried a bouquet of Talisman rosebuds. Talisman rosebuds also formed the corsages worn by the mothers of the bride and groom.

Immediately following the ceremony a buffet supper was served, when the wedding cake was cut by the bride.

For traveling the bride wore a dress and coat of rust with rust and brown accessories. After a honeymoon spent at Seattle Vancouver and Chilliwack, the happy couple will make their home at Redonda Bay.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. Olmstead, Redonda Bay; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Draper, Port Alice; Mrs. E. Johnson, Ladysmith; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dobson, Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. T. Bone and Miss Mary Bone, Duncan, and Miss Christine McKenzie, Duncan.

HEWLETT—BAISS

At St. Peter's Church, Quamichan, yesterday at 1 o'clock, Rev. T. M. Hughes officiated at a pretty wedding when Diana Josephine Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey G. Baiss, became the bride of Gerald Marriage Hewlett, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hewlett, Cherry Point. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with chrysanthemums and autumn leaves by Mrs. D. Hewlett, Mrs. C. H. Hopkins and Mrs. F. G. Andersey. The service was choral, Mr. B. W. Gehrke at the organ. Mr. R. E. Baiss, brother of the bride, acted as best man, and Messrs. David Hewlett, A. M. Hodgins and F. Price were ushers.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, made a lovely picture in a dress of white quilted taffeta faille, made with a short coat of the same material, net veil trimmed with lace, Juliet cap of gilt sequins, white shoes with true lovers' knots, and bouquet of red roses and lily-of-the-valley. Her two bridesmaids, Myrtle Frane and Eleanor Hotson, were dressed in taffeta, the former gold and the latter palest green, taffeta muffs to match each dress with gold chrysanthemums on them, gold shoes, and chrysanthemums in their hair.

After the ceremony a reception was held at "Four Winds," Duncan, the home of the bride's parents, the house being decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, pink carnations, antirrhinums and fern. Silver bells hung over the table, and the three-tiered wedding cake was ornamented with a silver vase of pink rosebuds. The guests were received by Mrs. Baiss wearing a frock of teal blue French crepe, wide-brimmed hat in wine color, a fox fur and a corsage bouquet of deep crimson carnations, and Mrs. G. Hewlett Sr., wearing a dress of beige and brown lace, with hat in Burgundy shade and accessories to match.

For going away, the bride wore a dress of aquamarine blue wool crepe with hat to match, and a dark brown musquash coat. After their return from the honeymoon the young couple will reside on Norcross Road, Duncan.

"I used to be a frump, Jane Seymour"

"I simply don't believe it!" I said to this client when she called at my Salon and told me that. "Your skin looks beautifully tended and your colour accent is just right."

"Well," she said, smiling. "Six months ago, I assure you, I was the sort of person nobody noticed. I didn't believe in beauty treatment. Then one day I read an advertisement of yours that inspired me. I began to look after my skin with Cleansing Cream, Juniper Skin Tonic, and Orange Skin Food, and learned to make-up every day with Petal Cream, Dryskin Powder, and a little touch of Paste Rouge and Lipstick.

"The result was that I became more interested in my appearance. I went in for smarter clothes. Because I felt gayer and more attractive myself, I became more attractive to other people. And well—I just want to thank you, that's all."

What a lot women miss in life by letting their looks go! A little care with a few well-planned preparations can bring out a whole personality. Why don't you try it?

You can get my preparations from any of my agents, and do ask for my book "Speaking Frankly"—or write to me for it: Jane Seymour, 208 King Street West, Toronto. My Bond Street Salon is at 21-22 Grosvenor Street, London, England.

To Relieve Bad Cough Quickly, Mix This at Home

Does the Work in a Hurry. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother used, and, for real results, it is still a very dependable thing for distressing coughs. Try it once, and you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a 16 oz. bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really superior cough remedy—more than you could buy for four times the money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a family a long time.

This splendid home mixture has a three-fold action. You can feel it take hold at once. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. This explains why it gives such prompt, pleasing results.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine, in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Women M.P.'s in Verbal Tilt

Lady Astor and Ellen Wilkinson Exchange Thrusts

LONDON (AP) — Viscountess Astor, Conservative, and Ellen Wilkinson, Labor, exchanged verbal thrusts today in the House of Commons over whether titled ladies are getting control of the new women's territorial auxiliary service.

Lady Astor asked whether Miss Wilkinson was doing all she could to get Labor women into the territorial groups, which form a uniformed but noncombatant auxiliary of the defence forces.

"Not while they are in the hands of a social set like yours," Miss Wilkinson shot back.

Miss Wilkinson wanted to know if War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha thought such a proportion as 40 per cent of the officers being restricted to a narrow social stratum was wise and whether he thought the qualifications of a good "Mayfair hostess" were the sort of qualifications needed.

He answered that a "grave injustice is being done to these public-spirited ladies." He said they "in no sense represented one social order of society," but acknowledged that of 59 county commandants appointed 21 were titled women.

5. Should a friendly bet be paid promptly?

Father and Mother Share Unpleasant Family Burdens

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

ONCE I KNEW a man who refused to consent to a throat operation on his boy.

He didn't precisely veto the surgery, but he wouldn't say "Yes," mentioning that if his wife wanted it done she could go ahead.

She didn't know what to do. If things went wrong, it would be her responsibility. Yet she had been told that Brother was getting all his ear infections from a diseased throat. There were more complications and the boy was in a bad way.

Time went on. Nothing was done. Every time she brought up the subject the answer was the same. "Well, why don't you go ahead? But you know I don't approve."

It was an acute symptom that caused the crisis, and then she took matters into her own hands and had the work done. But not before she had a terrible week imagining all sorts of dire things. And when Brother got better and stronger this man said, "Why didn't you have it attended to long ago?"

This was his attitude whenever anything happened that required moral responsibility. He knew that he couldn't live with his own conscience if he said "Go ahead," and then was told that the worst had happened. He wanted someone else to supply the conscience. Preferably his wife.

I often run across fathers like this man. Sometimes it concerns health, sometimes a radical method in handling a domestic problem.

In such a crisis, the music simply has to be faced. And it is not at all fair to put it all on one

Once in a while things are re- it comes to a showdown. Then her husband has to take matters in hand and make the decision. But such cases are rare as compared with the others. It comes, probably, of men habitually referring all care of the family to mother.

MUTUAL RESPONSIBILITY IS A COMFORT

Which is natural, I suppose, and not to be censured. Yet it seems to be scant excuse when life is at stake, or some vital event in a child's experience. At such times both parents are equally concerned and neither should be called upon to shoulder the entire burden of choice.

It is always a comfort to a woman to know she can go to her husband and talk over serious affairs with him, being assured that he is interested and willing to advise without prejudice. To know that he won't close his mind or lose his temper the minute she mentions an irritating subject, or what he chooses to regard as irritating. The only way to get anywhere is to co-operate; to talk about health, or habits or hopes and map out a new approach.

Moral responsibility, I must reaffirm, is the hardest part of parenthood. It should be shared equally.

FROST ADVANCES PRODUCE PRICES

Increases in produce prices are being felt here because of an unexpected frost which hit California on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

The orange market has advanced from 15 cents to 50 cents a case, according to Wholesale Row officials. Higher prices are expected in grapes. Lettuce prices are also advanced.

A shipment of Carnichon grapes was received from California today. Prices on these are still reasonable.

In addition to the grape shipment today, a carload of Ashcroft potatoes arrived this morning.

A carload of Okanagan apples of various varieties is due Friday. The banana boat is late this week, and is not expected until Sunday.

English Honor German Pastor

Special Services Held for Martin Niemoeller, Jailed By Hitler

LONDON—"Let us pray for Pastor Niemoeller in his solitary cell!"

Those earnest words, ringing through historic St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Church facing Trafalgar Square in London, show how the cause of the German pastor imprisoned by Hitler still agitates England.

The speaker at this particular service was the Bishop of Chichester of the Church of England, and his audience included Jews and Gentiles, German refugees, and American summer visitors, as well as English men and women.

BECOMES A SYMBOL

This special intercession service is typical of many held in England by people of various faiths allied to Niemoeller's German Evangelical beliefs. This continued interest in Niemoeller's fate has never slackened since the time, four years ago, when Nazi authorities began putting an ever-increasing pressure on the famous and outspoken pastor, gradually making him a symbol of persecuted religious freedom in Germany.

Every time Niemoeller preached in his church at Dahlem, Nazi agents took down his words. Efforts were made to frighten people away from his services. On July 1, 1937, he was arrested.

His letters were ransacked, his entire life story combed for any incident that might be used against him. Nothing was found.

For eight months Niemoeller lay in jail on flimsy charges Then he was found guilty and sentenced to seven months' detention in a fortress. Having already served eight months, he was discharged. His wife and children were overjoyed at the news.

But their joy was quickly stilled when Niemoeller was immediately seized by the secret police and carried off to the concentration camp at Sachsenhausen.

This is how the Bishop of Chichester described the conditions of Niemoeller's imprisonment:

"He is kept in a solitary cell. Since March he has been quite alone, with his wife allowed to see him only once a month. He may read only the Bible and a hymn book. He is allowed no pencil or paper, and is permitted no conversation. He learns passages of the Bible by heart, and memorizes favorite hymns. Twice a month he is moved to a different cell."

DECORATED IN WAR

The man for whom English sympathy is thus being kept alive, has had a strange career. Born in West Prussia 47 years ago, he became a junior naval officer when the World War broke out. Transferred to a submarine command, his first ship, the U-73, laid a mine barrier around Malta. His second, the U-151, sank 55,000 tons of shipping. Niemoeller got the Prussian Order of Merit.

The war over, he married and became a farmer. Then he felt a call to the pulpit, and, supporting himself and his family with odd jobs as common laborer, bank clerk, harvest hand, railway trackman, anything, he studied for the ministry. Soon he became noted for eloquence and evangelical fervor. When Nazi authorities attempted to mold his preaching to conform to their ideas, he said simply:

"The Lord did not tell me, 'Go into the world and adapt My words to fit political conditions.' He said, 'Teach My words.' And that is what I am going to do, no matter what may happen to me."

EXHIBITS ARE EXCHANGED

NEW YORK—The New York Museum of Science and Industry here and the Paris, France, Palace of Discovery have just completed a plan for a mutual exchange of outstanding scientific exhibits. First American exhibit to go to France will be the display of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. At least two other nations are expected to join in the new plan shortly, says Director Robert P. Shaw.

Eye specialists consider contact glasses, when expertly fitted, as safe as ordinary glasses and less likely to break. However, they are expensive.

To Open Tomb of Dumb Princess

LONDON—After 700 years the tomb of one of the most pathetic children who ever lived is likely to be disturbed at Westminster Abbey to add another page to English history.

Arrangements are now in hand for opening the grave of Princess Catherine — five-year-old favorite daughter of Henry III, rebuilder of the Abbey—who, according to history, "was dumb and fit for nothing, but possessing great beauty."

Hers was one of the first burials at Henry's new church, where four of his children, all dying young, were interred in one tomb. This was not only the first royal burial in the Abbey, but surely the most tragic of all.

While the Queen fell seriously ill from grief, King Henry sought to console himself by the erection of a costly tomb, made of marble and rich glass mosaic, elaborately colored, and gilt.

For centuries the tomb has had its glory overlooked—partly because it is half buried in the wall of the south ambulatory, and two little images which once adorned it (one believed to have been made of silver to represent St. Catherine by William of Gloucester, the King's goldsmith) have long ago disappeared.

HEART IN A CUP

What more do the antiquarians hope to discover by the investigation of the tomb?

They hope to find proof that the tomb contains the remains of several other children, including Richard and John, sons of Henry III (and John Henry Alfonso and Eleanor, children of Edward I.

They also believe that another mystery will be solved—that of the golden cup containing the heart of Henry FitzRichard, who was murdered in the cathedral at Viterbo by the sons of Simon de Montfort. The tomb, it is thought, may yield this relic.

Big Bend Opens Vast New Area

New B.C. Highway Opens in 1940, Member Tells House

The value of the Big Bend Highway, when completed, as a tourist attraction and an industrial road that will open up vast sections of untold wealth, was outlined in the Legislature yesterday by Harry Johnston, Liberal, Revelstoke, when speaking in the budget debate.

The new highway ran through virgin country, Mr. Johnston said, and when completed would be one of the most scenic highways on this continent.

He said he understood a further appropriation for the highway would be made next year by the Dominion Government, and that it would be officially opened in 1940.

He suggested the provincial government should insist the Dominion Government take its full share of the cost of the Trans-Canada Highway in British Columbia, of which the 186-mile Big Bend will form an important link.

Timber had been held in that section for 30 years, Mr. Johnston said, by owners who had been waiting for the time when the country would be opened by a highway. Great mineral wealth also would be opened by the new road.

He pleaded for more finances for forest conservation. Spectacular fires on the coast last summer, he said, tended to blind the public that a serious menace from forest fires also existed in the interior of the province.

Legislation of Nursery Schools

Mrs. Steeves Would Encourage Preschool Training for Tots

Protective legislation for nursery schools in British Columbia was urged in the Legislature yesterday by Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver.

She stressed importance of training children between the ages of two and five years, when habits and mental quirks were formed that had a vital effect on later life.

Many nursery schools were being formed in the province now, she said, and some of them verged on a racket because those in charge were not always equipped to give the proper training. Legislation was needed not only to encourage the plan but to regulate it.

Mrs. Steeves attacked the Page Croft plan for mass immigration to B.C. from Britain.

As a start, she said, the government, if it wanted to populate the open spaces, should make life more secure so that people would have children. The decline in B.C.'s birth rate now was due to the fact most people did not know what their future would be.

"I have advocated birth control education in B.C., but it would not cut down the birth rate, only bring children when economic and health conditions of a family were at their best," she said.

Obviously it was not proposed to send the proper hand-picked settlers from Britain that were needed, she said, because the Page Croft report claimed the scheme would save Britain £50,000,000 in relief costs over 20 years.

Economists, she claimed, asserted Canada could not support more than 35,000,000 people, so there was no hurry to fill up the country.

Mrs. Steeves urged that unemployment relief allowances be raised by calculating them on a health basis rather than on an "emergency diet of starvation." Canadian statistics proved children of relief families were shorter and lighter than those of higher income families.

She proposed the age for dependent children given allowances under mothers' pension be raised, and asked greater care in the selection of welfare visitors so they would do less poking around.

Asks Report on Health Insurance

Production by the government of the annual report of the health insurance commission, due 15 days after the opening of the Legislature, was demanded yesterday in the House by Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East.

"Surely the hon. gentleman has enough to read," said Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.

"I want to know if the government is going to observe the law and file this report as required," said Mr. Winch.

Premier Pattullo assured him this report, along with the annual civil service report which he requested, would be filed shortly.

NEW C.I.O. PLANS RUSHED THROUGH

Lewis Group Completes Adoption of New Constitution

PITTSBURGH (CP) — The Committee for Industrial Organization convention quickly completed today adoption of a constitution, establishing the union as the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and giving broad powers to the leadership, after John L. Lewis had warned against attempts to delay acceptance.

The constitution provides a revenue for the new labor group that, based on its claimed membership of 3,664,612, could amount to more than $2,000,000 annually to push forward a new organizing drive, which leaders told the convention was the paramount question here.

The motion to adopt the 10 articles as a whole passed unanimously. On two sections, when they were considered separately, there were a few "no" votes.

These two articles give the executive board the power to name the date and site for conventions and assess small industrial unions a per capita tax of 50 cents.

WEST COAST MOVE

Lewis was aroused by an attempt yesterday by delegates to hold up consideration of the second article for another hearing by the constitution committee.

He told the 500 delegates the constitutional committee had drafted the document after careful study and conferences with executive officers, and the acceptance or rejection of the recommendations was the only question which could be answered. He added:

"It is not right, and we do not intend to let a man merely with an idea to come here and destroy the work of this committee.

"I hope there will be no further misunderstanding of this matter."

Lewis referred to objections raised by Harry Bridges, west coast C.I.O. director; Mervyn Rathbone of the American Communications Association, and Joseph Curran of the National Maritime Union.

PREDICTS EARLY TELEVISED NEWS

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—An official of a television laboratory predicted today early coverage of spot news events by sight and sound for broadcasts to the American public.

Philo T. Farnsworth of the Farnsworth Television Company told delegates to the Institute of Radio Engineers and Radio Manufacturers Association convention the events would be broadcast "as soon as we can get our trucks to the scene."

His statement came as the association received a report saying television receiving sets would be available to the general public next spring.

Farnsworth displayed to the conference a new transmitting vacuum tube which, he said, coupled with a camera lens of 9-inch focal length would send impulses through a portable transmitter to a central station for retransmission.

The lens can be interchanged, he declared, so a "camera" atop a stadium could pick up field action with a telescopic lens.

Seven channels now allotted for television will be sufficient for the present, Farnsworth said, as top transmission distance with clarity now is 30 miles and "there is little possibility it will exceed that."

CALGARY (CP) — A political party "holiday" in Alberta is advocated by E. W. Brunsden, secretary of the Alberta Unity Council. In an address to members of a Calgary service club yesterday he urged united political action at the next provincial election in the campaign against the Social Credit government of Premier William Aberhart.

In ancient tournaments, silver bells were given as prizes. The modern "loving cup" is an inverted descendant of those silver bells.

Buxton Earns Rugged Draw

Victoria Fighter and La Verne in Tough 10-Round Bout at Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Fans wondered today whether Eddie Marino came up with another possible titleholder when he took over the contract of handsome Lorenzo "Tor" Pedro, San Francisco light-heavyweight boxer.

Pedro, fighting a heady battle, let rugged Chuck Nickason of Vancouver, B.C., wear himself out in the first six rounds of a 10-round bout last night, then cooled the Canadian with two rights which produced two knockdowns and a technical kayo. Pedro weighed 170, Nickason 178.

The same boys fought two weeks ago on the Kreiger-Hostak card and Pedro was lucky to get a draw. Apparently he wasn't in top condition then, because he looked like a different gladiator last night. He's a stablemate of Al Hostak, ex-middleweight champ managed by Marino.

In the other half of the double main event Billy Buxton, 126¾, Victoria, B.C., and Danny La Verne, 126, highly rated San Franciscan, fought a 10-round draw. La Verne won a six-round decision two weeks ago.

STAGES COMEBACK

There were no knockdowns in the Buxton-La Verne encounter. Buxton had La Verne groggy from solid lefts in the second round, but La Verne's subsequent in-fighting earned him the draw.

Harold Hoshimo, 125, Seattle Japanese and former Golden Gloves champion, won a fifth-round technical knockouut over Young Nationalista II, 124¾, Manila, in a scheduled six-rounder.

Schoolboy Tenny Talbot, 141, Seattle, outpointed Jules Trolles, 144, Vancouver, B.C., and Dud Miller, 129, Vancouver, outpointed Frankie Villa, 120¼.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

VICTORIA'S 1938 Crimson Tide stock went up slightly this week when seven changes were announced in the line-up following injuries to several players in a Saturday practice game. While the brain trust in charge of doping out who and where for this season's McKechnie Cup contenders, made a good job (in most cases) in the first selection, they were right on hand with a bunch of classy substitutes to fill the vacancies when injuries hit the boys Saturday.

In fact, the new players, with a couple of possible exceptions, could have readily stood a bid in the first round of votes. But then opinions on the selection of any all-star team receive a thorough going over by the sport-loving public no matter what happens. However, it is just about time Victoria produced a McKechnie Cup fifteen equal to the task of bringing back the smart trophy to the Capital City, and this year may see the fulfilment of the annual crusade.

The local fifteen has certainly one of the finest scrums seen in rep selection in recent years, and with the addition of Joe Roberts, former track flash, and Doug Willard of the Scottish, to the ranks of the backfield, the speed of the three-quarter line has not been impaired. In taking over the fullback position from Jack Ferguson, who has been added to the three-quarter line, Jack Grogan, husky Oak Bay Wanderer player, will be on the spot this year. He was chosen for his ability to kick placements and his instinct to play his position no matter what happens.

[illegible] the gap fine when it comes to place-kicking, for he is a natural. He handles safely and kicks well, although Ferguson gets the nod when it comes to long kicks to touch. The present policy of fullback selection, however, is partly decided upon how many trys the safety man prevents being scored on his team, and thereby hangs the tale to the story. Varsity and Vancouver reps have both proved themselves to be equally as formidable squads as they were last year and the Victoria fifteen will have to be good to stop Varsity's Strat Leggat and Howie McPhee and Vancouver reps' Rusty Goepel, Covernton and Dagg.

With Bill Brown on the injury list, Victoria has lost a potential star wingman for the second season running. The first game with the reps against Varsity last year saw Brown dislocate his shoulder and put him out of play for the rest of the season. The Oak Bay boy came right back again for more this year, and the same thing happened. Although not as fast as Brown, Ferguson should be a good man on the wing with young Willard on the opposite flank.

The squad this year is as safe as could be possible in the fullback position. Should anything happen to young Grogan, Ferguson will naturally get the call to take over the safety position, and therein lies the team's double strength.

Taking everything into consideration, the original selection for Victoria's representative ruggers has been picked to pieces both by rugby fans and selection committee more so this season than in past years, but when the matter boils right down, the squad looks to be pretty fair opposition for the mainland steam-rollers.

Scheduled Rugby Matches Saturday

Rugby games scheduled for this week-end will see Scottish play the Navy on the upper field at Macdonald Park, and Garrison meet the J.B.A.A. fifteen at Work Point in the senior division.

In the intermediate section the Wanderers will battle Victoria College on the lower field at Macdonald Park and Navy Blues will play Scottish at Admirals Road.

NEW YORK—Fritzie Zivic, 150, Pittsburgh, outpointed Frankie Blair, 157, Camden, N.J. (8).

Sets Soccer Record

G. W. Hall Scores Five Goals as England Smothers Ireland 7 to 0 in International Match at Manchester

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP) — In a match that developed into an exhibition by the home team, England humbled Ireland 7 to 0 before a crowd of 40,000 soccer enthusiasts at Old Trafford today. G. W. Hall, clever inside-right, bagged five goals to create a new record for England in international competition.

Two Tottenham Hotspur players equalled the feat of Hugh Gallacher, who netted five goals for Scotland against Ireland in 1929. The high mark for international play was set in 1930 when J. Bambrick scored six times for Ireland against Wales.

Today's victory was England's 42nd over Ireland since the countries first met in 1882. Apart from a stirring Irish rally near the close of the contest, the home players held the whip-hand throughout, boring in practically at will.

After Tommy Lawton, Everton centre-forward, had opened the scoring after six minutes, Hall scored five goals in a row, three of them in as many minutes near the close of the first half. S. Matthews, Stoke City winger, netted the seventh goal eight minutes from the end of the game.

Hall and Matthews on the English right wing combined in a manner that dwarfed everything else in the game. The London player was quick to seize opportunities and his marksmanship proved too good for the Irish goalkeeper. Matthews' footwork dazzled the opposing halves and backs.

The program, portions of which are being kept a secret, promises to be good and a large crowd of rod-artists is expected. The affair will start at 9.

Beck Re-elected Head of Group

Returned as President Of Fish and Game Protective Association

George Beck was re-elected president of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association at the annual meeting in the Chamber of Commerce last night, during the course of which he appealed for a membership that would be large enough to represent the local fishing and hunting fraternities during the next 12 months in matters that might concern those groups.

Tom Willoughby, well known in sportsmen's circles, was chosen to occupy the vice-president's chair for the coming year, while Jack King was elected to handle the secretarial duties. He succeeded Jack Falkins, who took [illegible] years, but who had to decline the nomination this year owing to pressure of business.

Thirteen members were elected to the executive. These along with the three officers, who are ex-officio members of the board, will elect the other four directors at a later date. Those elected last night follow: Joe Jewkes, J. Falkins, Stanley Ross, L. Woodley, W. Woodley, C. McDonald, Ray Meldrum, C. Grant, George Laird, J. Skelton, C. Bruce, S. Williams and W. B. Christopher.

NAMED DELEGATES

Meldrum and Falkins were also chosen as local delegates to the island fish and game association along with the president and secretary.

The meeting was not well attended, the main reason for this being the fact that yesterday was the opening day of the duck season. That had taken many sportsmen out of town.

GAME BANQUET

The meeting was unanimously in favor of a Christmas game banquet, arrangements for which were left in the hands of a committee under the chairmanship of Stan "Blondy" Williams, who has power to choose his own committee. It was reported that the venison had already been offered for the feast, while other items for the all-game menu and program were left with Williams' committee to arrange. It will be held in Spencer's dining-room and will be open to all sportsmen, whether members or not.

The secretary was instructed to contact the City Council with a letter opposing the plan of the Vancouver Island Outboard Association to build a clubhouse at Elk Lake and use those waters for staging their meets. The members were strongly against this as high-powered motors roaring and tearing around would wreck black bass and trout fishing in that locality and also disturb the hundreds of nesting birds around the shores.

The meeting endorsed the idea of the formation of a junior fish and game association. A letter from George Straith Jr., asking for the use of the association's name in this regard was granted. Members ordered their delegates to the island meeting, which takes place this evening in Nanaimo, to vote against the island affiliating with the B.C. body.

Secretary Falkin's report showed the association with a small bank balance, despite a poor membership during the year. The membership reached only 82 compared with 219 for the previous year.

The meeting refused to endorse a letter from the game department which called for no shooting on or across traveled highways in the outlying sections of the vast Esquimalt electoral district.

Tony Galento Ruins Chances

Exhibition Against Thomas Wrecks Hopes of Getting Bout With Louis

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York boxing mob is in mourning over the Tony Galento-Harry Thomas affair in Philadelphia Monday night, fearing the game in general will be dampened by the splash.

Specifically, the Mike Jacobs group is afraid the blasting given Tony's third-round knockout victory will keep customers away from Friday night's middleweight scrap between Fred Apostoli and Young Corbett III at Madison Square Garden.

The fight fan is a scary bird at best and the locals think it was a dirty trick for Galento and Thomas to flush the flock just when winter was coming on.

GREED IS BLAMED

"It was nothing but greed," declared the manager of several big-name fighters. "Here we had what looked like a big season coming up, and these mugs have to come along and ruin it. Galento could have waited a few months until he had clear recovered from the pneumonia and then fought a real fighter. Now he's ruined."

The consensus is that Tony is ruined, all right. He is no longer welcome in Philadelphia, and any chances he previously had of getting a big fight under Jacobs' auspices are gone.

Most of those who witnessed the Philadelphia event place the blame on Thomas for not having given a better exhibition. There will be, however, no more loud talk about Galento challenging [illegible] title.

Offer Shore Top Salary

But Boston Bruins Defence Ace Still Dickering With Calder

BOSTON (AP)—Eddie Shore remained a holdout last night as his Boston Bruin teammates held their home opening with Toronto Maple Leafs, and he had the word of Frank Calder, National Hockey League president, that he could either take the league limit of $7,000 or remain suspended.

Calder said he talked with the star defenceman for four hours yesterday without reaching an agreement. Another conference was scheduled for today, Calder said.

"Shore has asked more than the league limit of $7,000 and I am prohibited from giving him above that amount," Calder stated. "He can take that or remain suspended. There is only one other player in the National League this season whose contract calls for $7,000."

[illegible] has been."

Announcing the settlement of Shore's differences was out of the Bruin's hands, Calder said he was the only one who could take action in the matter.

Blank Wings; Toronto and Boston Tie

Score Is 2 to 0 in Hockey Game at New York; Team Shake-ups Threatened

Montreal became the city of jittery hockey players today as Detroit Red Wings headed there for a meeting with their fellow occupants of the National Hockey League cellar, the Canadiens, only other team without a victory.

In four starts each, the Wings and the Habitants have been beaten every time. Tomorrow night they collide in an atmosphere of nerves and worry, for big league jobs are at stake.

Just before Detroit lost its fourth straight game last night, a 2 to 0 defeat by the Rangers at New York, Manager Jack Adams called up Syd Abel and Pete Kelley from the International-American League farm at Pittsburgh. The official word was they were replacing the injured Herbie Lewis and Charlie Conacher, but there was no question they would stick if they could show more than some of the regulars.

Canadiens decided to recall Bill Summerhill from New Haven after a conference between Manager Cecil Hart and club president Ernest J. Savard, who has threatened a shake-up if the Frenchmen don't start flying soon.

PACK PULLS AWAY

The pack is pulling away from the trailers and something will have to be done. Last night's game was only Rangers' second of the season but they have won both, to tie New York Americans for fourth place. Toronto Maple Leafs [illegible] Bruins in Boston last night and the opponents remained in a second-place deadlock with five points each, already a sizeable lead over Canadiens and Detroit.

Red Wings were scrapping at Madison Square Garden to hold their jobs but the best of their efforts were ruled no goals. Twice in the third period they beat goalie Dave Kerr and both times referee Clarence Campbell ruled the scorer was in the goal crease.

Rangers won on a second-period burst. With but three minutes of the chapter to play,

OUTSIDER TAKES BOWIE HANDICAP

Count Arthur Stages Comeback to Beat Aneroid and Esposa

BALTIMORE (AP) — A one-time cup winner, lately fallen on bad times, turned back ranking favorites in the 26th running of Pimlico's $10,000 added Bowie handicap yesterday when Mrs. John D. Hertz' Count Arthur scored by a neck and left Esposa and Aneroid out in the cold.

The Count, a veteran six-year-old and rankest outsider in the seven-horse race, finished on top to pay $17 after a perfect ride by Johnny Longden of Tabor, Alta., leading jockey on United States tracks.

Aneroid, John A. Mancuso's star five-year-old, finished in a dead heat for second with Walter M. Jeffords' Regal Lily, but was disqualified for fouling Esposa a furlong from the finish.

Count Arthur, who did the 1⅝ mile in 2.46, or 4-5ths of a second over the mark set by Esposa in 1937, broke fast and was kept well up with the leaders. Count Arthur's winnings in the upset total, $9,400.

Northwesterns Meet Senators

Senior Men's Basketball Squads Clash at High School Tonight

With undisputed occupation of second place in the local senior men's basketball race at stake, Senators and Northwestern Creamery will clash at the High School gym tonight. This will be the feature clash on a three-game program.

In the opener at 7.15 the Y.M.C.A. and Buckle's will battle in an intermediate A boys' engagement to be followed by a women's fixture between Tull's Unitys and Gainers. The men's clash is expected to get started about 9.15.

This will be the first meeting between the Senators and Northwesterns. Both clubs have dropped decisions to the Dominoes and both have beaten Palms, fourth club in the league. In preparation for the game Northwesterns traveled to Duncan Saturday night and handed the up-islanders a trimming.

Three league games are also billed tomorrow night at the High School. At 7.15 the Bees will hook up with the Pirates in the intermediate A boys' division to be followed by a game between the Garrison and Spencers in the men's senior C section. The third encounter will bring together West Road and Crescents in the senior B men's group.

Hard Tack Has Laugh

Horse Unwanted as Racer or Sire Was Stud for Seabiscuit, Holder of United States Turf Championship

NEW YORK (CP)—Hard Tack, little chestnut that went so long unwanted as a racer or sire, must be enjoying a quiet horse laugh these days as Seabiscuit, his fast-galloping son, wears the mythical purple of the United States turf championship.

Breeders now pay $1,000 for Hard Tack's services. His stud book is full. But time was when his services went free and were ignored. In fact, Hard Tack's siring of Seabiscuit was due to a combination of circumstances rather than any desire for a champion galloper.

Mrs. Henry C. Phipps and the late Ogden Mills bought a yearling at the 1936 Saratoga auction sales. The colt was by Man O'War from Tea Biscuit, she by the imported Rock Sand. Mrs. Phipps called him Hard Tack.

He was a fair two-year-old. At three he broke down and nobody wanted Hard Tack. One breeder wouldn't have him on his farm. Another kept him for Mrs. Phipps, but not until she decided to send some of her own mares to Hard Tack's court was there any use for his services.

SEABISCUIT BORN

One of these mares was Swing On, by Whisk Broom II from Balance. Swing on foaled a little bay colt, lazy and not much to look at. Mrs. Phipps named it Seabiscuit.

"We really had to give him a touch of the whip to make him work decently," said trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, telling of Seabiscuit's early days. "When he was aroused he could run."

Seabiscuit won as many races as Fitz thought he should at that time, but like his pappy, nobody particularly wanted the 'Biscuit and when Charles S. Howard gathering a stable together, offered $8,000 for Hard Tack's colt, it seemed a fair price. So Seabiscuit changed hands and neither Mrs. Phipps nor Fitz knew they were selling for a song the horse that would beat War Admiral for the 1938 turf championship.

Brilliant Centre of Edmonton Grads Basketball Team Voted Outstanding Woman Athlete in Canada for 1938

WINNIPEG (CP) — Delegates to the biennial convention of the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada turned homeward today with knowledge they have until December 31 to decide whether the Ontario branch will remain affiliated with the parent body.

Mrs. Irene McInnis of Thorold, Ont., president of the Ontario branch, last night said that body was ready to leave the federation if its demands for voting power proportional to the number of athletes registered are not met.

Edith McKenzie of Winnipeg was named president for the next two years by acclamation. She succeeds Ann Clark of Vancouver, who withdrew her nomination. Miss McKenzie was first vice-president the last two years.

Noel MacDonald, 23-year-old centre and captain of Edmonton Grads basketball quintet, was awarded the Velma Springstead Memorial Trophy as Canada's outstanding woman athlete of 1938. She was chosen over Winnipeg's Robina Higgins by the margin of one vote for the trophy known as the rose bowl.

Mrs. James Dunn of Winnipeg, vice-president of the Dominion Women's Hockey Association, applied for and received affiliation of that body with the W.A.A.F.

The federation nominated Noel MacDonald for the Lou E. Marsh Memorial Trophy, awarded annually to Canada's outstanding athlete, man or woman. The Manitoba branch nominated Robina Higgins for the same award.

ONTARIO'S DEMANDS

In presenting Ontario's demands, Mrs. McInnis suggested three votes be allotted branches with 300 registered athletes, four votes for 500, five votes for 900 and six votes for 1,300. She said Ontario had some 1,400 athletes registered, three times the number affiliated with the next largest branch.

Delegates decided to discuss the motion with their respective branches with a mail vote taken not later than December 31.

A.A.U. OFFICIALS ATTEND MEETING

W. W. Martin and Archie Mc Kinnon, president and secretary, respectively, of the B.C. Branch of the A.A.U., report a successful meeting of the executive of the branch in Powell River last week-end.

Among the more interesting announcements made, was one by the Pro Recs (Provincial Recreation) who have made application for both the Canadian gymnastic championships, which will be held sometime next spring, and the British Columbia weight lifting championships, which will be held next March.

It was decided at the meeting that the branch would sponsor a show in Vancouver around the end of next February or the beginning of March, at which each branch of sport which comes under the union, would be represented. R. Langdon, Vancouver, was appointed chairman to look after arrangements.

There was also a possibility of holding an all North American games in Vancouver in 1941. This date would come between the Olympic Games and the British Empire Games. Athletes from all over the continent would be seen in action. Langdon was also appointed to look into the possibilities of such a meet.

Other members of the executive present in addition to Martin and McKinnon, were J. Lundie, Powell River; R. Langdon, Vancouver; Joe McMillan, Vancouver, and Eric Martin, Vancouver.

RANGERS TAKE SECOND STRAIGHT FROM DETROIT

Cecil Dillon scored with the aid of Clint Smith and Lynn Patrick. Then Neil Colville split the defence alone and skated in on Normie Smith to score.

At Boston many in the crowd of 13,000 called at intervals: "We want Shore." But Eddie Shore sat stolidly on the stands maintaining his holdout campaign. He may confer again today with league president Frank Calder on his demands for more money than the Bruins are willing to offer.

Old Eddie's young replacement, Johnny Crawford, made the play for Cooney Weiland's goal in the first period. Murph Chamberlain pounded through the Boston defence in the second to convert Pep Kelly's rebound on a play started by Nick Metz.

Ton of Tunnies

GUILDFORD, England— Capt. C. H. Frisby, V.C., claimed a world tunny fishing record when he caught five fish weighing 1⅛ tons in a day off Scarborough.

Halved Hole in One

LONDON—A hole was halved in one on a golf course here. The players were unaware of their feat until they were close to the green. A similar feat was accomplished at Christchurch, N.Z., two years ago.

In size, the dinosaurs varied from the size of a rabbit to almost 100 feet in length.

MORE FERRY BOATS

To the Editor:—Can the existing fleet of ferry boats evacuate our island in the time which will be allowed us?

This may seem a silly question or one at best related to the distant future, but it is not so intended.

Following the Munich accord, Japan's attitude will be modified, in fact, she has already attacked a British war vessel. She may attack Hongkong or blockade it, in which case an engagement with the British fleet, possibly aided by the American, may follow. If the allied fleet is defeated, we may expect a Japanese flotilla off our island with notice to vacate immediately, as it will be required to attack the west coast after the Panama Canal has been closed.

Gen. Ironsides told us we were sitting on a keg of dynamite, I believe. He might say now that Vancouver Island is another Czechoslovakia.

H. H. WILLCOX.

630 Oakwood Road, Newtonville, Mass., and Uplands, Victoria.

WHO INTRODUCED BROOM?

To the Editor:—J. B. Munro, deputy Minister of Agriculture, is reported making a statement in regard to the introduction of broom to B.C. He said that Capt. W. Colquhoun Grant introduced it in 1869. I wish to correct that statement. It may have been grown still earlier, but I arrived in the province in 1864. I worked for Harry King and he had broom growing in front of his house against his fence across the road from the Cedar Hill Church when I worked there. That would be six years previous to 1869. I don't say Capt. Grant did not bring seed with him. He lived close to Point Ellice Bridge. Harry King, previous to coming to B.C. with Bishop Hills in 1862, had worked for that great English seed firm, Veitches of London. He had been sent by the firm to China to collect seeds. He went to Cariboo with the bishop in charge of his pack train. The Church Farm, Cedar Hill, belonged to Bishop Hills. These facts may be of interest to Mr. Munro and also to the Historical Society.

That was 76 years ago. How time flies! We should preserve the date of historical events for future ages.

Oh the broom, the yellow broom!

JOHN N. EVANS.

WASTING ORANGES

To the Editor:—The picture on the back page of the Times November 7, depicting the dumping of millions of oranges, should remove doubt regarding the necessity of drastic changes in our so-called democratic economy.

The sight of all that waste of the delicious and healthful citrus fruit, when millions of people throughout this continent need, but are unable to purchase it, must surely make the angels weep.

Were this the only line of needless waste, it were bad enough, but when it is duplicated in most lines of goods and commodities, it becomes criminal and unjustifiable.

Without holding any brief for technocracy one must admit that only under some such regulated economy can our useless waste and defective distribution be eliminated.

If we are to live up to our boasted superiority over Asiatic Japan and Nazi Germany, we must be regiment the man and woman power of the democracies that all work is justly apportioned among all citizens and the agrarian foodstuffs with manufactured goods and commodities regulated according to demand.

We pride ourselves on the conquest of the air and sea; the reclamation of swamps and desert lands, on a rapid and comfortable means of locomotion; yet the greatest conquest of all, that of poverty in an age of abundance, we have hardly attempted.

Those in control of affairs are living in a fool's paradise if they imagine that our system can remain unique in a rapidly changing world, or that the people will for ever remain blind to the folly of existing chaotic conditions.

Change must and will come, as nothing in the universe remains stationary, but whether it be brought about by peaceful or drastic means, depends on the wisdom or folly of our leaders.

CLYDE FRASER.

Luck of Racehorse

LONDON—Two days before the Cambridgeshire Stakes, Helleniqua was offered to two well-known owners for £400 ($1,924); both turned him down. Helleniqua won and paid off at 130 to 1 odds.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

SIR GEORGE PAISH

World Famous Economist in His Keynote Lecture

THE PRESENT WORLD CRISIS AND THE WAY OUT

The First United Church, Thursday, November 24, 8.15 p.m.

In his recent NBC broadcast Sir George declared " . . . the world is in the most perilous position it has ever been in." In view of the fact that he predicted the Versailles Treaty, and also foretold the coming of the great depression, the conclusions of this great British authority are worth careful attention.

In view of the fact that hundreds were unable to obtain admission to our last such lecture and in view of the large preliminary demand for tickets, we strongly urge patrons to purchase their reserved seats as soon as possible. The supply of rush seats will be strictly limited.

Five Seeking Council Seats

John Day Joins T. W. Hawkins, D. D. McTavish And Two Aldermen in Ring

Five contenders, including two aldermen were in the field today for five City Council seats for which the electors must choose representatives on December 8.

John Day announced his intention of seeking office as an alderman today, joining former Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins and D. D. McTavish in opposition to the sitting members. Aldermen Alex Peden and W. L. Morgan have announced their candidature and Alderman Archie Wills, John A. Worthington and James Adam have still to make public their statements.

Mr. Day stated he would build his platform around a campaign for the reduction of taxation and around his ability as a sanitary engineer and general builder to be of service to the community.

No one has come forward to oppose Mayor Andrew McGavin for the post of chief magistrate, but in view of the contentious nature of currently prominent civic issues, there was a strong possibility a rival would be advanced to test the feelings of the voters on such questions as transportation and utilities control.

Notes of the Legislature

Replying to questions, Premier Pattullo said Dr. W. A. Carrothers, one-man fuel-control board, who is to be chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, has a 10-year contract with the government. His salary is $10,000 a year. The fuel board's offices in the Central Building are leased at $156.35 a month.

An amendment to the Liquor Act which would give police the right to inspect all sales slips in government liquor stores so that they could check up on bootleggers buying large quantities of liquor is proposed in a notice of motion by R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative leader.

The government has under consideration a request for legislation to authorize credit unions in the province. They would be formed along the lines of building societies with members contributing so much monthly, entitling them to loans decided upon by a board of directors. No decision has been reached whether legislation will be submitted to the House.

TORTURE ATTEMPT STATED FOILED

Kidnap Trial of Dr. K. W. Berry Opens At Olympia, Wash.

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Prosecutor Smith Troy said today the state would prove Dr. Kent W. Berry, 50, attempted to inflict the "most horrible sort of torture that can be perpetrated upon a man" upon Irving Baker near here one night last August, but Berry's companions "through forcible intervention" thwarted his efforts.

The prosecutor, in an opening statement in the abduction trial of Dr. Berry and three other men, related at length incidents the state charged occurred the night of August 19 after Baker, retired United States coastguard officer, had been taken from his home.

With a jury of eight men and four women finally seated late yesterday, the prosecutor opened the state's case before a crowded courtroom.

"I may say the state is not fully aware of the motive or motives which actuated the defendants in the commission of the crime charged, but in the course of the trial, the alleged motives may appear directly or indirectly," the prosecutor said.

Berry's co-defendant's are William K. McAloon, former Montesano, Wash., night marshal, Robert H. Smith, 32, a Brady, Wash., dairyman, and James Reddick, 27, Olympia cab driver.

Witness Fails To Make Trip

Man Asked to Appear Before Legislative Committee Does Not Appear

Possibility of persons who lay charges before members of the Legislature being subpoenaed if they refuse to appear before legislative committees, when requested, to back up their charges, was mentioned this morning in the public accounts committee of the Legislature when B. E. Burpee, former temporary government employee advised the committee he would not appear.

Mr. Burpee, through H. A. Hetherington, charged that the government had overpaid the General Construction Company for work on a section of the Kingsgate-Radium highway. The matter was brought before the committee by Harold E. Winch C.C.F., Vancouver East, and Mr Burpee was advised to appear before the committee today.

This morning members of the committee voted to have Mr. Winch discuss the matter further with Mr. Hetherington before any definite action was taken.

Mr. Burpee's charges involved E. S. Jones, district engineer at Cranbrook. The charges were denied earlier in the week by Arthur Dixon, deputy minister of public works.

"We hold Mr. Jones in high esteem in our district," said R. R. Burns, Liberal, Rossland-Trail. "I don't think this thing should be allowed to hang over him. I think in justice to Mr. Jones this man should be brought down here."

Logging Contract Extension Sought

Extension of the city's present agreement with the Kapoor Lumber Company beyond the December 1 expiry date of the existing logging contract will be contingent on the management of the Sooke Lake watershed operations by Mayo Singh personally, if the water board's recommendation to the City Council is approved.

At a meeting Tuesday afternoon the board voiced dissatisfaction with certain violations of regulations governing the logging operations laid down by the city.

The company had sought an extension of the agreement to compensate it for time lost during the fire season last summer when camps were closed down.

As further provisions for the extension of the contract, the board sought maintenance by the company of a city sanitary inspector in the region and placing of a $3,000 bond to cover burning of slash at the conclusion of the operations.

Subject to those conditions and other minor details an extension up to April of next year might be granted, the committee decided.

Britain Seeks Jew Solution

By WITT HANCOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — The Cabinet today was expected to seek means of aiding German Jews and awaited Nazi reaction to a plan providing for mass migration.

The proposal to move the German Jews to North and South America and to parts of the British Empire was understood to have been discussed by the Cabinet at its regular Wednesday meeting.

Consultations are under way among Great Britain, United States, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark and Switzerland on the problem growing out of the recent wave of anti-Semitic measures in Germany. An international conference may be called, as suggested by Premier Hendrikus Colijn of the Netherlands yesterday.

One of the biggest problems was the attitude of Chancellor Hitler toward efforts of other powers to relieve the Jews. Germany, now smarting under foreign denunciation of the anti-Jewish disorders, may be inclined to snub advances to her on the question.

President Roosevelt's strong condemnation of Germany's treatment of Jews was given prominence by British newspapers, while various groups in Britain continued to protest against the Nazi anti-Semitic wave.

A unique proposal was made by one Jew in London—that a deputation of British Jews should fly to see Hitler and plead with him just as Prime Minister Chamberlain flew to Germany during the Czechoslovak crisis.

BRITISH-ISRAEL ASSOCIATION

Mrs. E. W. Abraham addressed the Victoria and District British-Israel Association on "Health and Healing from the Bible," on Tuesday evening in the Y.M.C.A. The speaker affirmed that world chaos and disease were the result of disobedience and failure to keep the economic and health laws laid down for us in the Bible.

"They are the most perfect laws ever given for man's guidance, and if we return to them, poverty will pass and there will be no more sickness. Why, after 2,000 years of Christ's teaching there should be chaos and disease is because we have not taught the message of the Kingdom, on earth. Once we put that message into operation, there will be peace and prosperity for every one," Mrs. Abraham said.

NEAR-HURRICANE OVER ALBERTA

At MacLeod 90-Mile Gale Blows Gravel Through Windows

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Southern Alberta's Chinook wind attained near-hurricane proportions Tuesday night, the official wind-guage at Kenyon Field recording a maximum velocity of 70 miles an hour at 9.25 p.m.

At MacLeod a maximum velocity between 80 and 90 miles an hour was reported. The gale blew gravel from the streets with such force flying stones broke windows. Telephone and telegraph poles were blown down.

At Waterton Lakes National Park a gale was reported, but damage to property was slight.

The thick blanket of snow which covered the district melted appreciably during the night. In Lethbridge storm sewers ran full and some streets were a mire of mud.

Municipalities Ask for Relief

Mayors and Reeves Tell Cabinet Minister They Carry Too Big a Load

Reeves of Fraser Valley municipalities, supported by the executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, this morning told three members of the cabinet that municipal finance was carrying too much of the load of unemployment and asked the government for some sort of immediate relief.

A large delegation, which included Mayor Andrew McGavin of Victoria and Mayor George Miller of Vancouver talked for two hours with Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipalities; Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, and Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor.

Reeve A. C. Hope of Langley, who was chairman of the delegation, said the meeting had been most amicable, and that further discussions would take place tomorrow morning.

He said the whole question of finance as it affected the municipalities of the province was taken up. Relief was the principal matter discussed, although cost of education to the municipalities was also mentioned.

Other members of the delegation were Reeve Wm. Crouch of Saanich, Reeve A. D. Paterson of Delta, Reeve R. C. MacDonald of Coquitlam, Reeve Solomon Mussallem of Maple Ridge, Reeve J. M. Grauer of Richmond, Reeve J. Hunter of Surrey, Councillor Harold Sutton of Pitt Meadows, Reeve A. B. Catherwood of Mission, S. L. Brice, municipal clerk of Chilliwack, and R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk of Saanich and secretary of the Municipal Union.

This afternoon the special superannuation committee of the Union of Municipalities, composed of Mayor Miller, chairman; Reeve Crouch; R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk of Oak Bay; Reeve MacDonald and Reeve J. B. Leyland of North Vancouver, met at the Parliament Buildings for a general discussion of the proposed superannuation changes.

SUGGEST MORE WORK ON CREEK

Move to Construct Tributary Drainage Ditch Proposed in City

With major work on Bowker Creek virtually completed for the year, the city engineering department today gave study to a proposal for 1939 which might relieve to a greater extent the area immediately to the north and west of Lansdowne field from further flood dangers.

An excessive run-off from the Mount Tolmie slope might still pile up water in the Lansdowne field area, it was suggested. To alleviate that condition a scheme was advanced to carry the run-off more directly into Bowker Creek by a north-south ditch running parallel to the former airport. At present drainage runs westerly over the Hillside Avenue section to Doncaster Drive before it reaches the creek. The suggested plan would arrest the flow at the westerly boundary of the field and carry it south to join the creek in the nighborhood of Pearl Street.

The proposal would have to be recommended by the public works committee before any action could be taken.

Letters to the Editor

"CLEAN," INSIDE AND OUT

To the Editor:—At a social gathering recently the guest speaker was a noted medical scientist who made the statement that the best way to avoid many of the serious diseases that humanity is subject to is to keep clean, inside and out.

The first process should be fairly easy to follow, with the attention now given to that matter at school, in the press and on the radio, but there is a sad lack of local facilities for keeping the outside of the body clean and healthy.

This summer, 20,000 people attended a carnival held at the seaside resort of English Bay—and Mayor Miller said in an address to the officials in charge of the event: "We who live in the city of Vancouver are fortunate in that we can stroll down of an evening and enjoy all that nature and public enterprise have bestowed on us. Our bathing beaches are just one of the attractions which are hard to beat anywhere in the world."

It is conceded that Victoria is a good location to live and work in and has many attractions, too. But the citizens are invited to stroll down on any fine day to view and meditate on the condition of probably the most deplorable seashore frontage of any coast resort in Canada. Take a photograph—make a sketch—of the broken, dilapidated steps leading down to beaches covered with debris, sharp tin tops, glass and rusty nails that are there to poison and lacerate the feet of the children that play on the sand.

Not even a drinking fountain to refresh the little ones on a hot day, no pools, dressing rooms of sanitary accommodation. Visitors who have sampled swimming in the ice-cold water rarely make a second attempt. There is not much pleasure, either, in walking along the muddy sheep path along the top of the cliff with its abundant crop of rag-weed and other asthma-breeding weeds. Then drive out to our once famous Gorge and view the disused bathhouse and dismantled diving boards and floats—a scene of desolation. It is impossible for anyone with a shred of love for our boys and girls to keep silent on this matter and perhaps it is not in order to blame the civic government; they can only construct what the citizens wish them to.

There are other methods than raising the taxes for this project, for we would all be glad to donate to a plan that would bring health and happiness to our splendid youth.

ATROCITIES IN SPAIN

To the Editor:—Leo Marston asserts "Of the 520 members of the Cortes only 50 remain, the other 470 are either murdered or have escaped to join Franco."

The accuracy of this assertion may be gauged by its opening words. There are only 473 seats in the Spanish Cortes, not 520.

Mr. Marston also asserts that the Spanish Loyalist Government "never was a government de facto or de jure." It was both. In February, 1936, the Peoples' Front won 268 out of 473 seats, in spite of the fact that its opponents were in power at the time. It was a constitutionally elected government and was recognized as such throughout the world.

Only 16 Communists were returned. Hardly sufficient to make the Loyalists "subject to Moscow."

Dean Inge's statements merely indicate that, like Mr. Marston, he is animated by "the will to believe." Most of the early atrocity stories on both sides were exaggerated, many of them probably invented. It seems to be fairly well established that such atrocities as were committed by supporters of the government in the early days of the rebellion, can, in the main be blamed on the Anarchists. The Communists appear to have done their best to prevent them.

On the other hand there seems very little doubt indeed that the rebels massacred large numbers of their oponents in cold blood, and there is none whatever that they have, in their bombing raids, deliberately slaughtered large numbers of women and children (atrocities that appear to leave Dean Inge and Mr. Marston strangely unmoved). The destruction of Guernia and the bombing of Granollas are merely outstanding examples of a ferocity that would be a disgrace to heathens, and is impossible to reconcile with the teachings of Christ.

His Holiness the Pope has more than once protested to that "great gentleman" and "saint," Gen Franco, with regard to the butcheries committed by the ruffians under his command, but apparently with no effect.

Mr. Marston does Catholicism no service in maintaining th its survival is contingent on the success of Franco and his gangster allies, Hitler and Mussolini

THE OLDEST RELIGION

To the Editor — Mr. Eekman takes exception to my theory as to the Parsees having the oldest religion in the world. Now I would ask Mr. Eekman to look upon the matter from my point of view and if so I fancy there would be little disagreement on the matter.

I based my theory on the words of our Saviour in His parable ("for without a parable, spake he not to them") of the man who planted a vineyard and went into a far country and when the time came to receive of the fruit of his vineyard, he sent his messengers to receive it. But as our Saviour said, they beat some, stoned others. So the lord of the vineyard said, "I will send my son, surely they will reverence my son. But they took him and killed him. What shall the lord of that vineyard do to those wicked servants? Verily I say unto you, he will destroy those murderers and burn up their city."

Did not this parable clearly refer to His crucifixion? But who were the messengers that had been sent from time to time before the son was sent—"From time to time," we say, how many years elapsed between the advent of these messengers sent by the Almighty to whom "a thousand years is but as yesterday."

Who were these messengers? How many years ago? What doctrines did they enunciate?

When our Saviour came he canceled the old Levitical laws and told the people "a new commandment give I to you, that ye love one another," do unto others as ye would they should do unto you."

Now when I talked with Parsee Cursetju about his religion he fetched out his parchment roll of his family and showed me the names of his two sons whom he had sent to be educated in England, his own name, his father's, his father's father and so on. Each name was written between lines and would use up a space of about one inch. The roll had to be handled carefully on account of its great age. The number of names on that manuscript must have been in the hundreds and reached back "X" number of years before Christ.

What about those 77 names giving the genealogy of Jesus back to Adam! Preposterous! 77 generations, nonsense.

Moses posed as a historian, how could anyone believe in a man who told us that God made the sun, "to give light to the earth by day and the moon by night, when we all know that the earth is only one of millions upon millions of bodies floating in space but all under the control of the Almighty. The age of this earth cannot be computed.

No mortal man can understand the meaning of either "eternity" or "infinity." Moses also told us about Noah's Ark, in which he said two of every kind of animal and bird were kept alive during the flood. He gave himself away by stating the exact measurements of this ark which showed that it couldn't carry one-tenth or maybe 1 per cent of the animals and birds to say nothing of the amount of feed required or what poor old Noah did to keep the lions and tigers from eating up their companions?

But to return to the Parsee who followed the teaching of Zoroaster the Persian prophet who was "supposed" to have lived 4,000 years before Christ. I write "supposed" because before (B.C.) Christ there was no cronological system, time was only registered by generations.

Zoroaster's teachings was identical with that of our Saviour's, "do thou to thy fellow man as thou would have him do to thee."

That was Cursetju's religion and he practiced it. The Parsees practiced what they preached. They would not cheat in business, they gave more in charity than any other community the world over.

Another prophet was Confucius, and his teachings were identical with those of Zoroaster the Persian and also with those of our Saviour.

I think under all these circumstances I am not wrong in assuming that the Parsee's is the oldest religion in the world.

Can any one prove there is an older?

DOMESTIC CREDIT BANK URGED FOR B.C.

To the Editor:—In itself, most of us will agree that the Goodwill Alaska Highway is a fine idea, a step in the march of progress, just as an ocean to ocean highway across Canada would also be, if in operation.

But experience in railways has taught us that fine ideas too much ahead of their logical development can become a heavy liability, especially with extravagant building.

It is therefore expedient that before we launch upon a $5,000,000 a year expenditure on borrowed money, we should study minutely all possible future effects of this road-building scheme on B.C. and the future position of Canada.

In the event that the province fails to provide this cost, or the highway neglect brings it into disrepair, the U.S. will then have to step in and control, maintain and administer the highway in the interests of the capital it has invested in it, for it stands to reason one of the conditions of the loan will be it must be maintained as an efficient highway in good condition.

It should also be remembered that by building this highway to the benefit of U.S. we break our neutrality in advance, and lay ourselves open in the event of war to be considered by foreign nations as accessory to any future United States wars, even if Great Britain was not at war.

It seems absurd that in this matter we have to go such a long round-about international way to secure a mortgage on our property to raise $5,000,000 a year to build a road, when by direct mortgage on our provincial domestic credit we could accomplish the same at half the cost, and no loss of national prestige.

Why can we not secure a charter to set up a provincial domestic credit bank in B.C. so the government may finance building this road by direct mortgage on the credit of the provincial wealth of the people, as sign government by a loan, backed only by American credit.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION

To the Editor:—It looks as if the dictators are winning in every encounter with democracy. It seems that democracy without proportional representation and provision that at least half of the parliament shall go to the country for re-election every two years is a dead letter.

The overwhelming majority which Chamberlain has in the House of Commons would carry everything he liked to put over.

Within a few months England will be lending Italy probably 50 million pounds to help carry on in Spain and foment trouble in Palestine.

Under the present system when the people vote about 55 to 45 the winning party arrives in Parliament with about 70 to 30. Is this part of the democratic system?

A prime minister with a majority of 200 can carry almost any ridiculous motion or any vote of confidence.

The late W. S. Gilbert knew whereof he spoke when he said: "I always voted at my party's call and never thought of thinking for myself at all."

It is a well known fact that not 5 per cent of members will desert the party when there is any risk of that party being thrown out. I think it was the late Mr. Bowser who said: "The thing is to get in and stay in." You have probably the figures of the last election in England and I am sure it would interest your readers to know what proportion of the people voted for the Chamberlain or Baldwin Government.

IS THE BRITISH EMPIRE "A COMPANY OF NATIONS?"

To the Editor—In Gen. 35:11 a promise was given to the patriarch Jacob that his lineal descendants would become "a nation and a company of nations."

In the absence of any scriptural warrant to the contrary we must assume that this promise was to materialize in the immediate and subsequent future as it did.

At the time of the prophecy, Jacob was the father of 12 sons. Twenty-five years thereafter he migrated to Egypt with 70 souls. In 210 years they returned a nation, a large nation, as nations counted in those days—1,800,000 souls.

Moreover, mirabile dictu, the 12 sons had multiplied, not as elsewhere and everafter, into a single, irresolvable community, but into 12 distinct yet homogeneous tribal entities—videlicet, "a company of nations." The Divine Arbiter has settled the issue, at once, and forever. "A Syrian ready to perish, was thy father, and he went down into Egypt and sojourned there, few in number; and he became there a nation great, mighty and populous," (Deut. 26.5). Again: "He cast out many nations before Thee . . . . . seven nations greater and mightier than thou" (Deut. 7-1.)

We have now to face a still more remarkable fact, sui generis, unprecedented and unparalled. Constituted though Jacob's progeny were as "a nation," nevertheless from the date of the Covenant, they are no longer regarded or designated as "a nation" but as God's chosen "people." (Ex. 19.5-8) The term "nation" occurs 350 times in the Old Testament but not once is it applied to Israel save as a term of bitter reproach, as if one were to call his neigbor "a Hottentot—not that it is one but because he acts like one (Ezek. 2-3:35-10). On the other hand, the term "people" is applied to the children of Israel 1,560 times in the Old Testament. To render assurance doubly sure, the two terms are used very frequently in direct antithesis e.g. 2 Sam 7-23: Psa. 2-1: 33-10-12: 1 Chr. 17-21-22; Isa. 34-1: 43-9; Zech. 2-11.

The inference is inevitable and invincible: Any British claim to be "The covenant nation" is pseudonymous, for, of course, they cannot perpetrate that which has never been in existence.

Once more: The term "Company" of nations as applied to the British Dominions is just as incongruous as the term "nation" would be when applied to Britain if Israel! The Hebrew verb qahal signifies "to gather together—to assemble in one place" never to widely scattered individuals or communities. The noun signifies "a congregation." In the Septuagint it is uniformly translated "synagogue." It is used most appropriately of "the gathering together" of the 12 tribes in exile in the north country unto Zion (Jer. 31-8: 1 Chr. 15-3.) The word is just as alien to the British Dominions as it is germane to the returned tribes of Israel in the Homeland.

DICTATORSHIP

To the Editor: — Assuming press reports were correct, the attitude of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company towards the elected representatives of this city, who met in Vancouver, shocked the whole community.

Suffering from dictators in Europe we regret to find one here, so powerful and so like them. Flatly refusing to recognize the authority of our representatives, there should now be found ways and means of dealing with the power company and of upholding the rights of the people.

We ask the mayor and aldermen to provide a remedy, giving the citizens an opportunity to support them as soon as possible.

This is an open letter to the mayor and aldermen passed as a resolution at a special meeting of the Democratic Book Club.

Secretary, Democratic Book Club,

GASSED DRIVERS

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Poisonous carbon monoxide gas in sufficient quanties to make drivers sleepy and impair their judgment over a period of six to nine hours has been found in the driver's compartment of 2 per cent of the automobiles inspected by the California Highway Patrol, E. Raymond Cato, chief, revealed here.

Citing this as a possible cause for many of the apparently inexplicable automobile accidents that keep occuring, Mr. Cato indicated that prolonged inhalation of a concentration of 100 parts of carbon monoxide per 1,000,000 of air would cause sleepiness, headaches, weakness, impaired judgment and decreased driving ability.

Chief causes of the high gas concentration in the driver's compartment included loose exhaust pipes, loose manifold connections, blown-out exhaust gaskets, cracked exhaust manifolds and other defects in the exhaust system

'Drums' Is Held Over

Story of Khyber Pass, In Technicolor, Is Popular Attraction

Sabu, the handsome East Indian youngster who made a sensational screen debut in "Elephant Boy," makes his second film appearance heading the cast of "Drums," Alexander Korda's thrilling technicolor drama of intrigue and romance on India's northwest frontier, which is being held over at the Capitol Theatre.

Featured with Sabu are Raymond Massey, Roger Livesey, Desmond Tester and Valerie Hobson in this adaption of the A. E. W. Mason story of a boy's loyalty and a woman's courage in a land of seething intrigue.

Horror Films For Dominion

"Frankenstein" and "Dracula," two of the strangest moving pictures ever filmed in Hollywood, have been combined to make a double feature at the Dominion, starting Friday.

Boris Karloff is the man-made monstrosity in "Frankenstein" and Bela Lugosi is the human vampire of "Dracula."

OAK BAY THEATRE

The performance of George Breakston, noted child actor, in "Life Returns," has been acclaimed by critics as one of the finest juvenile portrayals in years. The fame of young Breakston, who previously appeared in "No Greater Glory" and "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," grew with such amazing proportions he was signed for a picture by a major producing company. "Life Returns" is now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

DOMINION THEATRE

"Stablemates," at the Dominion Theatre, tells the story of a derelict veterinary who strikes up a warm friendship with an orphan stable boy, performs a dangerous operation which saves the horse's life, and then in a dramatic scene sacrifices his freedom that the boy may keep the horse he loves.

'My Lucky Star' Atlas Feature

With 14,000 United States youngsters already enrolled in the "Sonja Henie Junior Olympics Club," grammar and high school students today are on the way to becoming as ice-skating conscious as their predecessors 10 years ago were Lindbergh and airplane conscious.

Her deep interest in skating prompted Sonja Henie to start a crusade among the youngsters of her adopted nation to win them over to the sport. She conducted the campaign from the 20th Century-Fox studios in Hollywood, where she recently completed her newest film, "My Lucky Star." With Richard Greene sharing star honors, the picture opens tomorrow at the Atlas Theatre.

San Francisco Opera Ballet Coming Soon

The coming appearance of the San Francisco Opera Ballet next Monday in the Royal Victoria Theatre, promises to be a gala event, with a house practically sold out a week in advance.

Many dinner and supper parties have been arranged for the occasion. It is a well-known fact that a good audience makes for a good show, so the house is all set for gaiety.

Lovely girls, sensuous music, the grace of young male dancers, combine with the mimeing and grotesquerie to make an amusing and beautiful setting. The box office for this attraction is at Willis Pianos Limited.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

W. C. Fields, star of "The Big Broadcast of 1938," Paramount musical laugh riot, which is now at the Columbia Theatre, might have remained a silent comedian like Chaplin or Harpo Marx, if Philip Goodman, the theatrical producer, had not decided to sign him for the comedy lead in the stage production of "Poppy." Fields had been an outstanding vaudeville comedian for 20 years but had never uttered a word on the stage until his appearance in that show.

Employees of the C.P.R. received a statement from the railway president today, stressing what he termed was the necessity for railway unification and asking co-operation of workers in a study of the problem.

Tells of Value of Merging Airlines

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Reasons for the proposed merger of Imperial Airways and British Airways, under government control were explained yesterday at the 14th general meeting of Imperial Airways Ltd., by Sir John Reith, chairman of the board.

Plans for the merger were announced Armistice Day by Air Secretary Sir Kingsley Wood.

After outlining the financial position of the company and calling for considerable increase in capitalization, Sir John declared since Imperial Airways is a national service of the first importance it should know its position in the political and economic life of the country.

The present situation, he said, is unsatisfactory from both the commercial and constitutional points of view, since the company is neither entirely free nor entirely protected, and its relations with the state are not as sharply defined as they should be.

Plans for a service linking Australia and New Zealand are completed, he said, and the service should start early next year.

SHIFT BRIDGE

EAST AURORA, N.Y. (AP)—A 1,200,000-pound concrete bridge was shifted from one site to another 30 feet away today. Steel rollers were placed under the concrete arch and the span moved with power winches. The bridge was moved to eliminate a curve near here.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Weakness at Liverpool gave Winnipeg wheat futures an easier tone today and prices sagged for the first time in four sessions. Minor commission house selling developed early and values were ⅞ to ½ off at the close, November 59⅞, December 59¼, May 62 to 62⅛ and July 62¾ to ⅞.

Export business was estimated at 500,000 bushels. Offerings thinned as the session advanced and a little support came into the market attributed to export interest. Trading generally was dull.

Country marketings yesterday totaled 585,000 bushels against 294,000 a year ago.

Liverpool reacted to lack of cash wheat demand and renewed offerings of cheaper wheat by exporters. The close was 1⅛ to ½d lower. Buenos Aires showed a ⅝ higher to ¼ lower range at noon.

Cash wheat trade was quiet. Coarse grain futures also showed little action. Prices were slightly lower to firm.

CHICAGO (AP)—Awaiting disclosure of terms of the Anglo-American trade pact, Chicago wheat prices today slipped downward a little.

Whether or not the British tariff duty of six cents a bushel against United States wheat would be canceled was uncertain. Cheap offerings from exporting countries acted as a drag on values.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher compared with yesterday's finish, Dec. 63¾ to 64, May 66⅛ to 66¼, corn ¼ to ¾ down, Dec. 47¾ to 47⅝, May 51⅛ to 51¼, and oats ⅛ off to ⅛ up.

Three-point Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—The remaining portion of the stock market's post-election gains last week were largely swept away by broad selling today.

Losses running to three points in leading shares piled up in late trading after the market generally failed to respond to early strength in aviation and steel shares, which enjoyed a short-lived whirl as United States plans for increased defence spendings were emphasized in the Washington news.

Bonds and major commodities tended to wobble with stocks. Wheat at Chicago finished ⅜ of a cent a bushel lower to ⅛ up. Corn was down ¼ to ¾.

At mid-afternoon the British pound traded at $4.70, down ½ of a cent, and the French franc was .00¾ of a cent lower at 2.63 cents.

AN INTEREST IN 6 WELLS ON 240 ACRES IN TURNER VALLEY

FOR $1,000—RETURN FROM PRESENT OUTPUT—Payable Monthly | $204.50 ON A YEARLY BASIS

The outcome of a meeting to be held November 27, between representatives of the Alberta Government, Oil Producers' Association, C.P.R. and C.N.R. may result in an increase in the returns of 50%. Spring, summer and fall requirements are larger. The capacity of one of these wells alone, 2,784 barrels, is greater than the present allowed output of the 6 wells, viz., 1,983 barrels.

THE UPWARD TREND IS CLEARLY INDICATED

Financial Post, Toronto, October 15 and November 12: "Turner Valley Productive closure is regarded as phenomenal"; "It points to long life"; "The productive closure is now around 4,000 feet"; "The productive closure of some of the great thoroughly proved U.S. Oil Fields in relatively the same geographical formations is only 1,600 to 2,000 feet"; "The British Empire produces less than 5% of her own oil needs"; "British demand is soaring"; "Britain's main sources of oil supplies are dangerously located."

The fact that the wells are prorated to a fraction of their capacity is a factor in your favor as prices are but fractions of what they will be when the wells are allowed to produce to capacity. More wells and Canadian and Empire trade can be expected.

YOU CAN GIVE YOUR SUPPORT TO THE DEVELOPMENT and in our opinion be increasingly well paid for doing so. We have spent months in the Field and a telephone call to E2132 will assure your receiving full particulars.

Beds, Sleep and Dreams

III—SOUND SLEEP

Sleep — good, restful sleep! What a blessing it is! We go to bed tired, and if we sleep well enough and long enough, we wake up rested.

Closing up a modern "bed in-the-wall."

Beds have been important chiefly because they have helped people sleep well. It is possible for a person to sleep when he is seated, but the best sleep comes when we are lying on a well-built bed, with the right amount of covering and fresh air.

In modern cities, apartments are likely to have beds-in-the-wall. They come down at night and go up in the morning. Such beds save space. They came into wide use during the last century. In early models, there was danger of a folding bed going up while a person was sleeping in it, and in a few cases sleepers were smothered to death. Present-day models are built in a manner which takes away that danger.

A person may sleep well enough in a folding bed, but the best beds keep their place day and night. They have thick mattresses, filled with carefully placed innersprings; and the mattress rests on a box-spring. Tests have proved that the softest mattress is not the best. A first-rate mattress is fairly soft, but it also is fairly firm.

When a person sleeps, his temperature is a little lower than when he is awake and walking about. The difference may be only half a degree, but sometimes it is as much as two degrees Fahrenheit.

Our breathing is slower when we sleep, and our heart beats from 10 to 20 times less often per minute. The brain is not supplied with so much blood during sleep, and that is at least one reason we find sleep restful.

It has been found that people grow sleepy when the air does not have the right amount of oxygen. That is why we are so likely to fall asleep when we are seated near a fire in the hearth—the flames burn up oxygen and rob the air of the amount it should have. When there is an open fire in the room, special care should be taken to admit fresh air.

When the air is robbed of part of its oxygen, it may cause a person to fall asleep, but the sleep is not very restful. The best sleep comes when a room contains a good supply of fresh air.

Because fresh air helps to bring about sound sleep, some persons have made it a custom to keep windows wide open even during cold winter nights. In most cases that is going too far. In cold weather a window open a few inches will let in plenty of fresh air for the average person.

People suffering from tuberculosis need complete rest, also an extra-large amount of oxygen. In their case, sleeping on a screened-in porch may be of great help in both winter and summer.

HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, November 17, 1938.

Although this is seen as an uncertain day in planeary direction, benefic aspects are strongly active, according to astrology. The early morning should be favorable to executives.

This should be an auspicious rule under which to apply for political appointments or for recognition of partisan service. Conservative ideas will gain support and tried policies of government will be popular.

Women should take advantage of this configuration which presages good fortune in business and happy endings in courtships.

Shopping is subject to the best possible direction of the stars. It is a most promising date for starting Christmas shopping and is propitious for buying household necessities.

Theatres will be well attended and many new stars will gain attention.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of prosperity and happiness. For the young, romance is foreseen as most fortunate.

Children born on this day probably will be energetic, far-seeing and successful. Subjects of this sign succeed in careers that affect the fortunes of their fellow man.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"I certainly am going to let you drive—just as soon as both you and the car are a little older."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My fiance and I have been having an argument about my keeping on with my job after we are married. He is opposed to it. He says that the woman who works outside of her home cannot be as good a wife and mother as the one who devotes all of her time and energies to her family. Is this true? And, if it is true, why is it the case? FLORENCE.

Answer: It is true because it is one of the immutable laws of nature that nobody can be in two places at the same time. Hence it is impossible for even the most versatile woman to be simultaneously looking after the affairs of her home and seeing to the welfare of her husband and children, and running a business office, or conducting a political campaign a thousand miles away.

Every woman has just so much intelligence, health, energy and enthusiasm, and if she spends it on one thing she hasn't got it to give to other things, any more than she would have money to buy potatoes if she had blown in her last cent on a fur coat. That is why the women who try to combine careers and domesticity generally fail at both.

Every woman who is worth her wage to her employer and who does the kind of work that will get her anywhere has to give the very best that is in her to her job. She has to bring every ounce of intelligence that she has to bear on it. She has to concentrate on it. For the time being it has to be the most important thing in the world to her. And she cannot do this if her mind is detracted by home affairs and she is wondering if the children got off to school all right; if little Johnny's cough is better. She has to charge her memory with the things she has to buy at the delicatessen store for dinner as she goes home.

Nor can the woman who has worked all day in a store or office and who comes home tired and exhausted and nerve-frazzled at night be the sweet, serene, patient wife and mother she should be. She can't even give her family the kind of food they should have to eat if she has to cook it herself. She would be more than human if she didn't snap at her husband and spank the baby and vent on her family the irritations that she had been bottling up in herself all day and that she dares not expend on the boss or customers.

You can't hire anybody to pinch-hit for her. No baby specialist, no nursery governess—however scientific and well trained and conscientious—can take her place. None of them can give the children what they need more than anything else on earth: Love and tenderness and understanding.

DOROTHY DIX.

HOLD! MAKE-UP ARTIST!—What are you doing to that tooth? Here is Doug Corrigan getting a taste of Hollywood in preparation for a movie based on his air exploits. But will the film seem authentic without that bright and shining incisor?

MUST HAVE THIER TEA—It takes more than a mere strike to interrupt the old British custom of afternoon tea. Douglas Kitchener, above, is carrying food to "stay-in" strikers in a Hammersmith, London, printing plant, and it must be 4 o'clock, for the pot of tea is prominent.

SINEWS" FOR BRITAIN'S DEFENSIVE ARM—Several of their number already qualified pilots, and others athletes of renown, a group of 20 adventurous young Canadians sailed aboard the Ascania for England to take up short-term commissions in the Royal Air Force. Alert and enthusiastic they are typical of the men Britain is recruiting as fliers. In this picture, taken just before the ship sailed are part of the group. In the back row, from left to right, are: T. F. Kerr, Montreal; H. A. G. Smith, a former member of the R.C.A.F., of Kingston, Ont.; E. Pollard, Montreal; A. C. Forsyth, Winnipeg; R. B. Fleming, Stellarton, N.S.; P. S. Turner, Toronto; R. D. Grassick, London, Ont.; in the front row, left to right, F. W. B. Knapton, Vancouver; A. B. Parker, Winnipeg; A. I. Watterson, Ottawa; E. A. Allen, Ottawa; E. M. Laird, Montreal; E. R. McGovern, Moncton, N.B.; and, at bottom, A. Graham Egerton of Montreal, son of Dr. Arthur Egerton, well-known musician. Allen has flown in the Arctic and holds a commercial pilot's license; Smith and Egerton have both private pilot's licenses. Fleming and Watterson are baseball and football players respectively.

"FLYING FERRIS WHEEL" AWAITS TEST—Their queer-looking, wingless "plane" almost ready for a test, Henri Van Zandt and Louis Chequet, French inventors working at Port Chester, N.Y., confidently expect the contrivance, pictured above, to rise vertically into the air and remain virtually motionless if the pilot desires. The ferris-wheel-like contraptions jutting from all sides are triple blades intended to lift it aloft by "scooping" up the air.

CONQUER JERUSALEM—After a seven-day battle for the Old City of Jerusalem, British soldiers retook the area. Photo shows a long line of rebel Arabs who were bound together and marched off to detention.

MOVING DAY — This unusual picture of the crack Royal Household Cavalry was taken on Great West Road near London as the cavalrymen, each leading a spare horse, made their annual shift along with the change of residence of the British Royal Household. The household cavalry, which traces its origin to the Parliamentary army of the 17th century, is composed of the Royal Horse Guards and the Royal Life Guards.

NEW JAPANESE FOREIGN MINISTER — Considered a victory for the more moderate elements in the Japanese cabinet is the appointment of Hachiro Arita, above, as foreign minister. He succeeds Gen. Kazushige Ugaki who resigned because of differences with cabinet members.
